LIND, AT MEXICO CITY, BELIEVES NEGOTIATIONS ARE NEARING END

HAS LONG CONFERENCE WITH SIR LIONEL GARDEN, BRITISH MINISTER.

IS NOT ENTHUSIASTIC

MANIFESTS LITTLE CONFIDENCE THAT HUERTA WILL RETIRE.

ULTIMATUM IS EXPECTED

Feeling at American Embassy is That Provisional President Will Be Given Short Time Limit.

Mexico City, Nov. 7.—John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico, was in conference here tonight for more than two hours with Sir Lionel Garden, the British minister. Neither Mr. Lind nor Sir Lionel would repeat for publication the gist of their conversation, but it is believed the opinions of the two men differ widely regarding the Mexican problem and the part the United States should play in its solution.

It developed tonight that Mr. Lind's stay in the capital would be longer than was anticipated. It is not improbable that he will remain here until a final settlement or a break in the negotiations is reached.

Unwilling to admit another failure on the part of Washington to bring about the elimination of President Huerta, Mr. Lind nevertheless failed today to manifest any enthusiasm over the prospect of Huerta giving up office. From his manner and his conversation he indicated that he believes the negotiations are nearing an end.

Expect Ultimatum Soon.

There was nothing at the American embassy today to indicate that a more favorable turn in events is expected and there is reason to believe that an ultimatum in its full diplomatic sense soon will be handed Huerta, the time limit being brief. It is expected that this new document will be so written as to bring an end to the relations between the two countries before November 22, the date fixed for the convening of the new congress, unless Huerta goes to the point of agreeing to the terms of the Washington communication.

Mr. Lind today saw no Mexican government officials and probably may not see any during his stay in the capital. Mr. Lind had a long conference today with Nelson O'Rourke, the American chargé d'affaires.

Sliver was the most elusive thing in the capital today. The price of foreign exchange stiffened and a few merchants resorted to the plan of issuing vouchers in place of silver in making change. At some of the city banks the bank notes of certain states were refused. This caused a slight panic among holders of such paper.

Credit Slip No Local Standing.

The credit slips issued by the mercantile houses have no legal standing and in many cases were refused. In cases where they were declined, the business houses putting them out, but in neighboring stores friendly to the store of issue. As yet the public has placed no premium on paper money.

Quirido Moreno, minister of foreign affairs, has evinced neither curiosity nor interest over Mr. Lind's coming to the capital. To newspaper men he said today that it was a matter of no concern to him. He added that he knew of no diplomatic reasons for Mr. Lind's visit and declared that he did not expect to have any communication with him. Speaking of the wounding of General Felix Diaz in Havana last night, Senator Moreno attributed the attack upon Diaz to "fanatical followers of Carranza."

New Hampshire to Vera Cruz.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Under orders from Rear Admiral Fletcher, the battleship New Hampshire is steaming to Vera Cruz from Tampico. With her arrival eight American men-of-war will be assembled off Vera Cruz.

Admiral Fletcher gave the order without instructions from the navy department.

The gunboat Annapolis arrived at Santa Rosalia, Lower California, where she is guarding a band of French colonists.

NO RIGHT TO MAKE DEMANDS

HUERTA'S FORMAL NEGATIVE REPLY TO UNITED STATES GIVEN OUT.

MEXICO WILL INCREASE ARMY

Statement That Force Will Be Made 500,000 Will Be Included in Reply.

Mexico City, Nov. 7.—Provisional President Huerta's formal negative reply to the United States' demands, which was discussed in detail at last night's cabinet meeting, will set forth that the United States has no right, legal or otherwise, to demand General Huerta's elimination. This statement was given out today from one of the departments of the Mexican government.

The reply, it is said, will assert that the Provisional President Huerta has no legal right to accede to the demands.

The informant says it was decided to incorporate in the reply a declaration that General Huerta intends to increase the Mexican army to 500,000.

TRACTION STRIKE ENDS

MEN WIN IN PRACTICALLY ALL POINTS EXCEPT RECOGNITION OF UNION.

Traffic to Be Resumed Within Twelve Hours—Governor Ralston Gets Credit.

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—The strike of the employees of the Indianapolis traction and terminal company was settled late today through the efforts of Governor Samuel M. Ralston. The employees won their demand for arbitration, but nothing is said about recognition of the union or terms of settlement.

Street car service is to be resumed within twelve hours, according to the terms of the settlement, which also provides against any further interference with the operation of cars.

All the men who were in the employ of the company Friday night, October 31, when the strike was called, and all the employees who had been discharged on account of joining the union are to be reinstated by the company.

Disputes and grievances as to wages, hours, conditions and grade will be referred to the utilities commission for arbitration if the company and employees fail to reach a mutual agreement within ten days. The company must take up these grievances with its employees within five days after the resumption of service. The utilities commission, by the terms of settlement, must render a decision which shall be binding on all parties interested in these matters.

In addition to union and traction company officers, the agreement was signed by Edward Stewart, representing the federal government, and Governor Ralston for the state.

The settlement of the strike means that the 2,000 employees of the Indianapolis national guard, who were called to Indianapolis yesterday by the governor for strike duty, will be dispatched to their homes as soon as possible.

The strike began a week ago tonight and has resulted in four deaths and injuries to a hundred or more persons, including several police officers. Until yesterday, when the city quieted down, the downtown streets have been the scenes of almost continuous rioting and much damage has been done to street railway property.

Union officials declare that, while disappointed in not obtaining recognition of the union, they obtained their main contention, arbitration of all disputes between employees and the company. The railway company asserts it won its fight not to recognize the union.

Credit for settlement of the strike is given to Governor Ralston, who has been untiring in his efforts to bring the company and its employees together.

Secretary Lane today issued through Indian Commissioner Wells, orders instituting radical reforms in the administration of estates of Indian children. These reforms will be in full co-operation with the state authorities, particularly the probate judges. Through modern business methods it is expected that hundreds of thousands of dollars will be saved to the Indian children.

POLICY IS YET TO BE DETERMINED

NOTHING DEFINITE IS DECIDED AT THE CABINET MEETING.

SEC. BRYAN REFUSES TO TALK

Press Dispatches That Huerta Refuses to Eliminate Himself Do Not Change Situation.

Washington, Nov. 7.—What shall the United States do in the event that Provisional President Huerta refuses to resign?

This question was discussed at length today in the cabinet meeting, but no decision was announced.

Formal reply to the latest American representations had not been received up to a late hour today and until a definite answer comes it is not expected there will be a determination of the policy to be pursued.

The discussion at the cabinet meeting turned, however, to various alternatives. Nothing concrete developed, it was said, nor were there any tangible conclusions, but members went away with fixed ideas of the determination of President Wilson that the American government should unwaveringly insist on the elimination of Huerta from the situation as the first step toward peace in the southern republic.

Lifting the embargo on arms so that Mexican constitutionalists may obtain munitions of war was one of the principal suggestions taken under consideration, but as yet there is no change in the neutrality attitude of the Washington government.

Press dispatches today announcing to an extent Huerta's purpose of rejecting the American demands made no impression on government officials. They had received no official communication to that effect and would not talk until they had received official notice.

A hopefulness that Huerta would realize the certainty of future complications and eliminate himself from the situation was expressed by some officials, but there was no information available to indicate upon which such optimism might be based.

Dispatches from Berlin stating that Germany would consider a movement to bring the powers into support of the American policy only if such a step were desired by the Washington government, led to the belief in many quarters that some movement might be developed in the situation to convince Huerta of the force of the American viewpoint.

Secretary Bryan declined to discuss this or any other phase of the situation.

$1,000,000 FOR SCHOOL FUND

State Treasurer Edwards Believes the Amount Will Be Paid in Before December 1.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 7.—State Treasurer J. M. Edwards is of the opinion that before December 1, $1,000,000 or more will be paid into the state treasury to be deposited to the account of the available school fund of the state. The interest due on these lands is payable on or before November 1 and during the month of October $350,000 was deposited to this account. In the neighborhood of $200,000 has been paid already this month. The total interest approximated is about $1,500,000, all of which is deposited to the available school fund account.

OVER 5,000 AT HILL CO. FAIR

Woodmen of the World at Hillsboro Proves Feature Day Thus Far. Races Held.

Hillsboro, Tex., Nov. 7.—Woodmen of the World day at the Hill County Agricultural fair resulted in between five and six thousand people entering the turnstile today, following a parade of companies of the uniform rank from the square to the grounds.

Mayor M. W. Leavelle delivered the address of welcome. P. W. Wiseman of Cleburne responding. Competitive drills took up the afternoon. Company H of Fort Worth being awarded first prize in the company drill and Fort Worth individuals capturing a majority of the other prizes offered. Two harness and one runrig race were run this afternoon, but a full card is offered tomorrow of three harness and two runrig races. The track should be in good shape by Monday. The fair will close Tuesday evening.

DO IT EARLY

Less than 50 days remain until Christmas. Do your Christmas shopping early because the demand upon your time later will prevent careful selections.

Wife of New Mayor of New York City

Mrs. John Purroy Mitchell, wife of the new mayor of New York City, is one of the youngest women to become the first lady of the metropolis. For that matter, her husband will be the youngest mayor of the city—his age is 35—and she is not so old. Mrs. Mitchell is an intellectual woman, much interested in ethical culture. While she believes in woman suffrage, she has not been boisterous about it, and has not associated herself with the women who have been denominated suffragettes.

It is not likely that as the wife of the mayor she will keep up a large establishment, for the Mitchells are not wealthy, and the young mayor will probably have to live within his salary of $12,000 a year.

LAY AND CLERICAL DELEGATES TO QUADRENNIAL SESSION OF GENERAL CONFERENCE ELECTED AT TEMPLE

Central Texas Methodist Conference Takes Up Most Absorbing and One of Most Important Tasks of Session—Reports Are Heard.

Temple, Tex., Nov. 7.—The most absorbing, if not the most important, work before the Central Texas Methodist Conference today was the election of lay and clerical delegates to the quadrennial session of the general conference of the church to be in May at Oklahoma City.

The clergy on account of so largely outnumbering the laymen present was somewhat slower in counting its ballots and having them counted, there being 214 votes of this character in the conference. On the first ballot the vote cast was 214, making 109 necessary to a choice. Rev. Frank P. Culver of Polk county, Fort Worth, proved an easy winner and lacked but 25 votes of being the unanimous choice of the conference. His vote being 191. Rev. W. B. Andrews, presiding elder of the Waco district, was second, with 117 votes, which was less than a majority and put him in the second ballot.

On the laymen's side the total voting strength was 46 and on the first ballot there were 36 votes cast, making 23 necessary to a choice. John H. Garner of Cisco, W. E. Williams of Fort Worth and F. F. Downs of Temple receiving more than sufficient votes were elected on this ballot. On the third ballot Judge Ocie Speer of Fort Worth receiving 23 votes was elected, the second ballot having been fruitless, no one having received a majority. The outcome of the election occasioned but little surprise as the names of the elected men were the most prominently mentioned for the places and anything but their election would have been an occasion for the expression of surprise.

The conference got down to business on time and after devotional services led by Rev. M. S. Hotchkiss of Mineral Wells, was formally opened for business. The roll call was dispensed with. Secretary John R. Nelson read the minutes which were approved with slight immaterial corrections. The following lay delegates were announced as having arrived and being in attendance upon the conference and it was so noted on the records, viz: J. A. Brainerd, Cisco; T. W. Shirley, Hillsboro district; W. C. Street, Leon; O. L. Howard, Weatherford district. The delegates were ordered seated.

Consideration of reports under question 22 was taken up where left off yesterday, beginning with the Gatesville district and the characters of the following were passed:

Gatesville district: S. J. Vaughn, presiding elder; W. J. Mayhew, Clinton; Reported good year.

J. D. Hendrickson, Crawford; Received 24 into church; church property improved during year. Salaries and collections all in full.

J. F. Adams, class IV, Copperton; Confirmed conversions; 51 conversions; 75 per cent church membership in Sunday school; 10 per cent net increase; all assessments and salaries in full; repaid $1000 to church extension board.

J. W. Bowden, Evans; Forty conversions; 45 additions; 30 net gain; built two churches; organized two Sunday schools.

Charles H. Little, class IV, Fair and Lanham, absent; Good year and good work reported by presiding elder.

C. G. Chappell, Gatesville; One hundred and seventy-five conversions; 56 additions; salary pastor raised 42 per cent. All collections and assessments in full; new church built, costing $20,000. Fine year, conditions good.

L. R. Sawyers, Gatesville circuit; Reconverted conversions; 5 infants baptized; parsonage refurbished; excess in salary and collections.

Alonso Monk Jr., Hamilton; Good year; healthy growth, church well organized; Sunday schools fine condition.

BLIND BOYS AMAZE CROWDS AT PALACE

Show Astonishing Strength, Agility and Endurance in Athletic Contests and Tug of War.

MART AND MOODY COME, 2000 STRONG

Ideal Weather Conditions and Large Attendance Mark the Seventh Day of Phenomenal Success at Texas Cotton Palace Exposition.

The attendance at the Texas Cotton Palace yesterday, the seventh day of the exposition season, as reported by Secretary Seth N. Mayfield, was 12,496, or 3000 in excess of the attendance on the same day in last year.

Mart and Moody came to the Cotton Palace yesterday 2000 strong, parading the streets with brass bands and with booster badges flying; school children in their Sunday clothes and new high shoes, mothers with babies in their arms, and boys with their best girls in "glad rags."

The Moody train arrived at 10 in the morning and was met at the station with welcoming music from Alessandro's band. After greetings had been extended by President W. H. Hoffmann of the Cotton Palace and Directors C. H. Cox, L. Friedlander and Walter Cooke, the band led the way for a parade through the business section. The procession broke at Eighth street, and the members wended their various ways to the Palace grounds.

Booster's Busy Day.

The Young Men's Booster club, which headed the parade carrying a great banner, was chiefly instrumental in arranging the excursion and bringing it to its successful culmination. President J. A. Phillips of the organization was assisted by Cecil Teague, Fred Jackson, Howard Lawhorn and others. There were 1000 excursionists on the Moody train.

Mart Brings Music.

The Mart Boosters, 1100 strong, arrived at 2 p. m. with their own band of 23 pieces. These united with Alessandro's musicians to furnish a lively accompaniment to the parade up Austin street. After the line of march broke up, the band returned to the business section and serenaded the newspapers and other business houses, being presented by Wolfe, the florist, with a large chrysanthemum for each musician. Joe Ward, the leader of the band, received numerous compliments on the success of his aggregation.

500 School Children.

Five hundred school children from Mart and the surrounding towns were in the parade, wearing badges and booster ribbons. These children, as were those from Moody, were admitted free by the Cotton Palace authorities.

J. L. Sansom, mayor of Mart, expressed his appreciation of the many courtesies extended the citizens of Mart, and assured the Waco and Cotton Palace officials that the visit next year would be a still better one. "The Cotton Palace is getting better all the time, faster than we can realize," said Mayor Sanson. "Mart is getting stronger for it every year."

Other prominent citizens with the excursion were President Edgar Mann of the Mart Y. M. C. A., S. S. Burbank, secretary Y. M. C. A., J. L. Spencer, editor of the Mart Herald; R. W. Bass, president of the Mart Fair; T. M. Wilson, T. H. Lumpkin, W. E. Patty, superintendent of the Mart Public Schools; Dr. E. R. Moore, and others.

Reluctant to Leave.

The special trains left last night about 8 o'clock, but many of the boosters remained over till later trains or until the morning.

The out-of-town guests were welcomed with exceptionally good free features on the Warpath, the race course and in the Coliseum. In addition to the high drive, bicycle loop, trained horses and dogs, and the band concerts, with their usual excellence, were presented two new events in the chariot races and the drill by the children from the State School for the Blind.

Real Chariot Races.

The chariot races were real events of the track, and the smashing speed at which the drivers took the curves assured the cheering spectators that it was no frame-up. The stands and fence about the track were packed to witness the races. This afternoon the course will be dry enough for the four-horse and one-rider events, and along with these will be presented the unique post and rodeo drill by the youthful rough riders from McGregor.

The drill will be held immediately after the chariot races. The boys and girls who take part in it have been promised the freedom of all the shows on the grounds, and are looking forward to this big day. The Patterson shows have been thrown open to them, as well as the roller coaster, merry-go-rounds and other amusements, and C. H. Cox has promised free candy.

Exhibiting of Athletics.

The exhibiting of dimes, tumbling, wrestling and athletic games given by the 6 to 12-year-old children of the State School for the Blind yesterday afternoon in the coliseum brought appreciative applause from the audience at the conclusion of every feat. Commencing with simple tumbling stunts, the boys proceeded into strenuous and complicated gymnastics that shamed the efforts of nine-tenths of the gymnastic classes twice their age, and when it is considered that the boys were working in the dark, making leaps into the air off each others' hands and onto them for distances of as much as six feet, the display of skill and confidence is still more noteworthy. Wrestling and tug of war were the competitive features of the exhibit. Free rides on the merry-go-rounds and roller coaster were offered to boys their size or larger who could equal them in these departments. Although the blind boys shouted their challenges to the audience with great fervor, there were no responses. After the athletic exercises, the class marched about the floor, singing Miss Violet Dettie, who has kept a continuous crowd before the blind booth by her sweet singing since the opening of the exposition, accompanied the drills and songs on the piano. The boys were trained by J. W. Derr, who managed them on the floor. Prof. C. E. Godby of the State School for the Blind also accompanied them.

Blind Boys Victorious.

At the height of the performance the Waco Newsboys' club entered the arena in competition with the boys from the blind institute, and were unanimously defeated. In a tug of war, picked newbies, at least the equal of the blind boys in weight and height, were dragged across the floor after a brief struggle, amid enthusiastic applause from the audience, which was sardined into the coliseum seats and every available standing place to witness the struggle. In the wrestling matches which followed, boys of even height and height were pitted against each other with the result which was in favor of the newbies, but the newbies won only a single bout out of four.

The boys from the State School for the Blind were John Ottman, Troy Hamilton, Horace Austin, Charles Anderson, Hans Menzies, Alphons Shaw, Rufus Bennett, Wm. Todd, Alfred Sable, Ardmore Wilkerson, Oran Cole, Justice Garner, Carl Holker, Jesse Fowler, Emmett Hoy, Jeff Smith, Clinton Scott, Truett Chillery, Jack Matthews and Charles Anderson.

The blind class gave a rousing cheer for the Cotton Palace at the conclusion of the exercises.

Older boys from the school will exhibit next week.

Traveling Men Are Boosting Their Day at Cotton Palace

Marlin, Tex., Nov. 7.—W. P. Mathews of Waco, in town last night, is a real "live wire" when it comes to boosting for the Cotton Palace. He says the right thing at the right time and is always talking. He believes that if you have a good thing you ought to let the people know about it and he believes in the Waco Cotton Palace. Mr. Mathews was boosting for Traveling Men's day, which comes Saturday of this week. He said he was expecting a record breaking crowd on that day. He placed his estimates a little high but anybody can bring a crowd the traveling men can do it and Mathews may be right after all. He says they had 56,000 people at the Cotton Palace on Traveling Men's day last year and that they want to increase the attendance this year by at least 20,000.

He said the parade would form in front of the Metropole hotel at 10:30 tomorrow morning and would march through the business section to Eighth street, where they would take cars for the Palace grounds. This parade he claims will be a feature of traveling men's day. Saturday is also Ladies' day at the Cotton Palace and is looked forward to with much pleasure.

BIDS FOR MARLIN POSTOFFICE

Commercial Club Receives Notice That Further Bids Will Be Asked.

Marlin, Tex., Nov. 7.—The Commercial Club has received notice that bids are again being asked for on the Marlin postoffice, which went by default a few months ago because there was only one bidder and the bid submitted was too high. Appropriation was made some time ago from the general building here and had the bids been low enough when first asked for the work would have been well under way. The federal building is to be located on Coleman street, west of the Arlington hotel about half a block. The appropriation for the building is $25,000. It is to be constructed out of stone and brick.

SHIFT IN LINEUP ON CURRENCY BILL

STRENGTHENS POSITION OF ADMINISTRATION, BUT DEAD-LOCKS COMMITTEE.

FIGHT ON NUMBER OF BANKS

Debate Waxing Warm, but Fails to Bring About Vote—6 to 6 Tie Is the Situation.

Washington, Nov. 7.—A shift in the lineup on the currency bill today strengthened the position of the administration forces but left the senate committee in a temporary deadlock. Senators Reed and O'Gorman, who have been opposing administration proposals in the committee, rejoined the democrats and the committee voted to reconsider the decision which cut down from 12 to 4 the number of regional banks in the proposed new system.

Senator Crawford (republican) voted with the democrats to reconsider, but a debate which at times waxed warm and lasted all afternoon failed to force a vote on a proposition to fix the number of banks at seven. Senator Crawford said he had voted to reconsider solely as a matter of courtesy. He made it clear that he would not support a resolution to increase the number. Senator Hitchcock made it plain that he would not swing into line with the other democrats and with a 6 to 6 tie in prospect the administration forces avoided a vote.

The administration senators succeeded today in voting to retain the secretary of the treasury on the proposed federal reserve board. The reading of the bill was begun and a number of minor proposals were passed upon. The committee voted down a proposal to force a double liability similar to that of present national bank stockholders on the stock of the proposed regional banks.

The section of the present bill which would force all national banks into the system under penalty of losing their charters within a year was changed. National banks under the amendment would be required to signify their intention of entering the system within sixty days. Banks which at present are reserve agents and which fail to enter the new system within ninety days, would forfeit their reserve agencies.

Against General Banking Business.
The committee voted down a proposal by Senator Crawford to allow the regional banks, when they are created, to do a general commercial banking business.

With the committee hard at work but tied up on the fundamentals of the bill, the movement for a caucus of democratic senators gained momentum today. A petition was circulated by Senators Ashurst of Arizona and Martine of New Jersey calling for a conference on the currency question in general. No detailed direction was included in the call. It was understood that the real subject of the caucus and its scope in relation to the work of the committee would be decided after it met.

Administration senators, including Senator Owen, declaring they had taken no part in starting the call for a conference and it was stated that the administration was not behind the call.

Senator Kern, chairman of the democratic caucus to whom the call is directed, left Washington today. He will not return until Monday and the call will be presented to him then.

Talk of rather bitter feeling among the committee members and reported heated outbursts during the sessions cropped out today. It was asserted one member of the committee on the democratic side had threatened to leave the committee room and refuse to participate in the deliberations after Chairman Owen had made a speech urging support for the administration proposals.

Nineteenth Annual Session of the Southwestern Association Nov. 18, 19 and 20.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 7.—The nineteenth annual meeting of the Southwestern Ice Manufacturers' association, which will be held in Marlin November 18, 19 and 20, promises to be one of the most interesting as well as the best attended meetings the association has held in many years. The official program received today by the secretary of the Commercial club includes some very interesting addresses by prominent speakers as well as general discussions of interest to members of the association. The program is in pamphlet form with 20 pages and one page is devoted to "In Memoriam" of the late Adolphus Busch, who was a member of the association.

The entertainment to be tendered the visitors on Tuesday night, November 18, will be by L. J. Nathan, manager of the Marlin ice company, and the form of entertainment is left entirely with Mr. Nathan, who will be governed by the weather. The second night in Marlin will be given over to a grand ball at the Arlington hotel and the third night will be celebrated with a banquet at the Majestic with Mayor F. S. McFar as toastmaster.

FEARS RUSH OF IMMIGRANTS

Frank Morrison of Federation of Labor Denounces Taft for Vetoing Inauguration Bill.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 7.—Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, addressing the Western Labor Immigration conference today, denounced ex-President Taft for vetoing the Immigration bill passed a year ago and declared that employers who opposed this bill were bent on "tearing down the civilization of the country to fatten their own purses."

Mr. Morrison predicted an enormous flow of European immigrants to the Pacific coast through the Panama canal. "When these strangers come—500,000 to 800,000 of them—the first year," he said, "they will have to find work. If they cannot get $2 a day they will take less, possibly 50c, or just enough to buy bread and avoid starvation. By admitting these people you are not only hurting yourself, but the nations from which they come."

President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, in urging that the trades unions' exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition be a good one, said it had virtually been agreed that there would be no convention of the federation next year and that the 1915 convention should be held in San Francisco early in the year.

Harmonica Jammed Down His Throat But He Is Uninjured

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 7.—If John Mullen suffered any ill effects from having a loose metal slide and part of the body of a harmonica jammed down his throat today he didn't show it. Mullen, who is from Rockport, Ill., was on his way to his old home in Naples, Italy, when three men gagged him by stuffing the harmonica into his throat, took his money and tickets and threw him from a passenger train near here. He wandered around in a dazed condition several hours until S. G. Whitehead found him. Whitehead removed the harmonica with a pair of pliers.

"Much obliged," Mullen said, and walked away. Whitehead said Mullen apparently was uninjured. Physicians declare such an experience probably would result fatally in most cases.

Girl Binds and Gags Herself, Then Sets Fire to Rubbish Pile

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Gertrude Hanson, 16 years old, who today was found bound and gagged in the cellar of the home of O. V. Jahns, with a pile of rubbish burning near her, confessed to the police that she had set fire to the rubbish and bound and gagged herself. She said her object was to cause a little excitement. The girl was uninjured by the blaze, although nearly unconscious from smoke.

The police were called by Mrs. Jahns, who smelled the smoke and discovered the girl. After she had been released, Miss Hanson told the police she had been attacked by a pyromaniac, whom she had discovered firing the house. To prevent an outcry the man had bound her and left her near the fire, she said.

Katy Wants Double Track.
Dallas, Nov. 7.—Officials of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad filed with Street Commissioner Rev. Scott this morning plans for the double tracking of the Katy line from the Katy and Central Crossing in Highland park, near the Southwestern Methodist university, to the Katy yards in North Dallas.

Commissioner Scott says that while no formal petition has as yet been filed with the city seeking this railroad improvement, he has been informed that the Katy has entered into a contract with the Houston and Texas Central railway to allow Central passenger trains to run over their tracks from the Highland Park junction to the new union passenger station.

To Visit Laboratories and Take Home With Them Supply of Vitalitas.

All editors who attend the old-time Editors' Convention in Houston the first three days of the Carnival next week are invited and urged to make a visit to the offices and laboratory of the Vital Remedies Company. They will be as "welcome as the flowers in May" and will be shown through the only plant in the world where Vitalitas is extracted. Each one will be presented with a goodly supply of the Nature Liquid and also of Vitalitas Salve to take home with them. Editors, like other mortals, are subject to many ills that Vitalitas will ally. Especially those who are advanced in years will find in it renewed strength and health.

These old-time editors are the patri-archs and heroes of Texas journalism. They have done much to mold and to make Texas the greatest state in the union; all honor to them. It is hoped not one will fail to accept the invitation to call at the offices of the Vital Remedies Company in the Beatty building.

Vitalitas is Nature's greatest curative force. It banishes all ills of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. You can investigate it today at the Powers-Kelly Drug Co. For sale by all druggists.

INDIANS THREATEN MASSACRE

Appeal for Aid Received by U. S. Marshal at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 7.—An appeal for aid to prevent the massacre of the Indian agency force at Ship Rock on the Navajo reservation in Northwestern Mexico, was received by United States Marshal A. H. Hudspeth today from Agent W. T. Shelton. A telegram from the agent says the Indians threaten to kill the whites at the agency unless the government drops prosecution of eleven Indian outlaws indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of riot and assault.

Upon receipt of the appeal the United States marshal telegraphed the sheriff of McKinley county to go to the reservation with deputies. Hudspeth also plans to leave for the scene tomorrow with a posse.

After the indictment of the eleven outlaws Marshal Hudspeth spent three weeks at the reservation and secured a promise from the chiefs of the tribe that the indicted men would surrender on November 12. Thinking the

PRISCO PREFERS CHARGES.

Has Former Employee Arrested at Orange, Tex., Nov. 7.—Frank Porter, a former resident of this city, was arrested yesterday on charges connected with the Prisco Railroad company. Porter has been employed recently by the Prisco in Arkansas. He left his position, it is said, and had his household goods shipped to Orange in one of the company's freight cars. It is alleged that in sending his goods here he also sent a quantity of goods that belonged to the railroad company. The car arrived here yesterday, railroad detectives procured a search warrant and had the car inspected. They claim they found about $2,000 or $2,500 worth of goods which, they allege, does not belong to Porter. Porter's trial will be held within a few days.

CARDS WITH MRS. LEE COWAN

WHO ENTERTAINS HER CLUB

The Young Married Ladies' Euchre played its last game with Mrs. Lee Cowan. Owing to other demands upon time, several members could not be present, so one table less than the accustomed number made this pleasant game. The prizes fell to the Mesdames James D. Williamson and Bart Moore. The hostess for the next week is Mrs. A. B. Cowan.

NOTHING IN THE PARADE

UNLESS IT IS DECORATED

It is a mistake that automobiles and vehicles can enter the Woman's Parade today without decorations. There is to be an automobile parade; also, on opening night, no decorations were required. But, for the parade today, it is absolutely required that every entry be creditably decorated; not necessarily expensively, but with taste and sufficient not to detract from the general effect.

A SIX O'CLOCK WEDDING

FOR MISS GLADYS GRAVES

At six o'clock this afternoon the Austin Avenue Methodist church will present a brilliant scene. This is for the marriage of Miss Gladys Graves to Dr. Stevenson of Terrell. The bride will be a half-hour of music, voice, and organ, from guests who come especially to do this service for their young friend. Those invited will thus gather earlier than six o'clock, the time for the ceremony. This is an event of note in the social world.

THE BACHELOR MAIDS PLAY

WITH MISS ELEANOR BLAIR

The absence of several members afforded Miss Eleanor Blair as hostess for the Bachelor Maids to pay special courtesy to Miss Ball of Parsons, Kansas, also the Mesdames Frances van Boudie, Anne Risher and Marian Duncan. In consequence both prizes, a box of handkerchiefs for one, fell to visitors to the club. They were, the Mesdames Duncan and Hall. During the game, the victrola music enlivened the room, and the time for enjoying the luncheon. The next games will be played with the Mesdames Lacy.

THE LITERARY CLUB MEETS

WITH MRS. T. A. CAUFIELD

In the mad rush of Cotton Palace distraction, the Literary club gathered sufficient members to hold its regular meeting. Mrs. T. A. Caufield was the hostess, and excellent papers bearing upon the Tallman were read by Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. W. H. Pool. Mrs. Allan Sanford's resignation was received. Mrs. A. M. Waldrop of the Woman's club in Bryan, was the only member of the afternoon. The features were, the club dissolved into social session for the making of paper flowers for the automobile which will represent the Literary club in the parade today.

MRS. ARAMINTA BRANSON

MAKES IMPORTANT NOTICE

Dora, are hereby notified of the Daughters' requests every one who is to appear in this feature of the parade, to be before the home of Mrs. Branson, 525 Terrace Row (North Twelfth street), before 11 o'clock. This is to form the section, receive flags, final instructions, and to get together all which represents the Mary West chapter before moving to the station letter for the general parade. This is very important.

MISS RICH IS HERE AGAIN

FOR COTTON PALACE TALKS

The engagement of Miss Rich at the Cotton Palace last season attracted sufficient interest for the Domestic Science club to have her return and deliver several demonstration lectures for them. This means that the second Cotton Palace season of Miss Rich is welcomed, and that many will avail themselves of their opportunity. Miss Rich represents the extension work of the State University, and she lectures upon foods, their value and preparation. With the culinary, the labor saving and other features in the Palace this season, the women of the home find a great deal of practical interest.

MISS BESSIE B. BURLESON

IS LUNCHEON HOSTESS

When the twelve girls received invitation for luncheon with Miss Beattie Burleson on Thursday, it was the matter of curious comment as to whether it meant really that Miss Burleson was entertaining in courtesy to her household guest, Miss Josephine Jarrell of Athens, or whether there was a Cupid's message lurking somewhere. It proved the latter, for the last course, the special delivery boy brought the message that Miss Rose Littlefield would be the Christmas season bride of Martin McBride of Greenville. In patronage of the occasion, the girls of the beauty of the season's blossoms, the room was a mass of roses, the red for one and the pink for another. The courses came in five, and the announcement was read by Miss Burleson in five verses of clever rhyme. Then it was congratulations for Miss Littlefield and upbraidings that she had not told her secret sooner. The guests other than best man, the honoree and her home guests, were the Mesdames Esme Forrester, May Bell Wood, Al Lee Bonham, Mary Littlefield, Nellie Jenkins, Josephine of Caldwell, Lois Upshaw, Germaine Halbert and Minnie Mae Schimelpenninck.

MISS ADA LIEBERMAN

NOW MRS. LOUIS LESLIE

One of the recent south side weddings found Miss Ada Lieberman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Lieberman, given in marriage to Louis Leslie. This was a home ceremony, and found decorations placed. The point of greatest interest was marked by an overhanging wedding veil, depending from an arch of smiles, studied with electric bulbs. Ferns and roses embellished the Chiny laid table, where the punch bowl sat. The array of gifts made also an interesting spot. The bride wore her wedding gown with a new blue tone in broadcloth with hat and other details in harmonious tone. Her marriage was told in the shower of bride's buds and Niles of the valley which she held. The two sisters, the Mesdames Jennie and Sadie Lieberman, were in attendance. These were gowns of the chrysanthemum tones in gold and white, with clusters of gold and pink "mums. Mrs. M. Mesdames of St. Louis was matron of honor. She wore a costume all white. The groom was attended by Carl Leslie of Houston. Quite a number of guests from other places were present, among them being Miss Sara Goldberg from Houston, Miss Lena Ahronson of Rosebud, Louis Lieberman of San Antonio. The musical feature was given, both voice and piano, by Miss Sara Levin.

THE EVANGELIA SETTLEMENT

MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

The last regular meeting of the board of directors for the Evangelia Settlement was held at the Settlement House, the home of this work. This was the time for the annual election of officers, the result being: Mrs. J. T. Strala, president (re-elected); the Mesdames W. J. Wigley and Minnie Carroll King, vice presidents; Mrs. Sidney Burrows, secretary and Mrs. F. A. Winchell, treasurer. Three resignations on the board of directors were received, and elected to take their places are the Mesdames O. E. Arbuckle, W. W. Woodson, and Caringer. The board heard from Miss McDonald, the head worker. She has her work thoroughly systematized. Domestic Science includes two classes for girls, cooking and housekeeping. These meet on Wednesday and Monday. There are also two classes for boys, these being assigned according to age. A sewing school meets every Friday. Kindergarten is taught every day. The nursery is conducted daily. The reports show the work of the Settlement growing and prospering. The underlying spirit in all that is done, is to help people to help themselves by successful, otherwise, failure is inevitable. The foundation for the betterment of the future home is laid, the girls being taught to cook, sew, sweep and mend. The boys receive lessons in industry, neatness in person, and to be self-reliant, give your orders. The Settlement is open at all times, and all who feel any interest are urged to call and see what is actually being done. The organization is strictly non-sectarian, yet the great work of Our Lord and Master pervades all which transpires.

THE GREAT WOMAN'S PARADE

COMES AT TWO O'CLOCK

Before one word else is said, women of Waco, be in your places at two o'clock today. Clip the order of parade, and take it with you. Take place under the letter designated for you which you will find conspicuous. Remain stationary until the chief marshal or one of his aids tells you directly how to move. Again, give your orders. Calculate your distance from your station and personally superintend the moving.

NOTHING WILL BE ADMITTED

AFTER THE PARADE BEGINS TO MOVE

The entries, every single one, is expected to remain in the parade until after this has passed through the Cotton Palace ground before the official review is made.

Many women have beautifully decorated vehicles and are still in doubt as to how to drive. The idea is, not all to wear the same, as variety adds. But, all should wear something light and in harmony with the general tone of the float. If a white color is available, wear that. Do not wear a dark hat which will lend one sombre tone. Everything is for effect, so, if an improvised hat can conform to the general color tone, so much the better. Remember no one except the occupants of the vehicle can see your details. It is the general panorama of beauty and brightness which should be sought. Be careful that the leaders to the parade do not get the artistic appearance of the floats, but let the parade be an aggregation of sphinxes. Parades are for carnivals, and carnivals mean gaiety and good humor, everybody happy; so smile, and scatter smiles from the beginning to the end of the parade. Parade as you please, and, above all, salute the official review stand as you pass. Let the women show that they are a unit in their good spirit and desire to make their public parade all that it can possibly be. BE AT YOUR STATION ON TIME.

The Night Vaudeville.

That dreadful veil of secrecy which the committee has drawn over the details for the night entertainment at the Cotton Palace has had one corner disarranged, and a very, very few have taken a peep. Alessandro is telling it all. He has been rehearsing for the several numbers, and his report is that something unusually good is in store. Something pleasing and something beautiful. About fifty musical talents, graceful girls, soloists, comic features, all this is talked about. Seven vaudeville stunts, all by Waco women of special talent, and some men who are to be there by surprise. The material is of the highest quality, which will assemble in the Coliseum. Everybody will go out to see this grand close of the "greatest day that has ever been or will be."

On the Review Stand.

The seat of honor on the review stand is reserved for Mrs. O. R. Colquitt, who has been invited, officially, to make this review. Governor Colquitt will be here if his duties possibly permit. Mayor and Mrs. James Mackey will represent the city officially. The Cotton Palace will be represented by President and Mrs. Hoffman of the men's department and Mrs. J. W. Bass with Mr. Bass of the women's department. The Honorable John H. Kirby who comes as the principal guest of the traveling men, has been invited to a seat. Also Green and W. W. Cameron with Mrs. Cameron, as members of the governor's staff, are included; also, the Mesdames Flora Cameron, members of the Board of Regents for the Girls' Industrial College, and Edward Rotan, of the Board for the Wayward Girls' Home, and Mr. Rotan. Mrs. F. J. Lennox, as general chairman of Woman's Day, and Mr. Lennox will have place. In addition the Mesdames W. W. Seley and M. M. Harris, members of the Board for the Juvenile Training School for Boys, with the Mesdames Seley and Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bolton, who are entertaining Mrs. Colquitt, and Miss Kate Friend, hostess for the women of the Review stand. Notice to Subscribers.
Delivery routes in the city of Waco are in the hands of Independent Carriers, who buy their papers at wholesale prices. Subscriptions accounts are due them, not the Waco Morning News. They are under heavy bond, not only to give the best delivery service, but to pay for their papers each month. Their remuneration is the difference between the wholesale price and the retail price which they receive from subscribers. This margin of profit is such that they can not afford to extend credit except month by month. They are not required, and are advised against, delivering the paper to anyone who does not pay in accordance with the above subscription terms. These carriers are all earnest, hardworking young men and they will appreciate any courtesy shown them.

The Morning News should be delivered throughout the city of Waco by 4:30 a. m. and subscribers failing to receive the paper at this time will confer a favor by phoning the circulation department, both phones 1122 and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

Traveling Agents.
Following are the traveling agents of the News who are authorized to solicit and receipt for subscriptions, advertising, etc.: W. C. Lewis, F. E. Long.

TO THE CITY COMMISSION.

It is simply justice to the Waco Morning News to remark that its attitude and appeals regarding traffic regulations that will safeguard the people of this city as to the operation of motor vehicles is timely, intelligent, and therefore commendable. The people are aware of the danger of the situation and the need of protective regulations. A newspaper does not deserve credit for doing what it manifestly is its duty, but it is always in order to express appreciation when a paper evinces readiness to meet duty by candid and courageous utterances. The News believes that in adequate protection the lives of men, women and children are involved. And so does The Tribune, so do the people of Waco.—Waco Tribune.

MR. DOLLINS'S STATEMENT IS RECEIVED AND PUBLISHED.

The Waco Morning News did not say, in its editorial of November 6, that Commissioner Dollins prevaricated with respect to the new paving of Columbus street.

What the Waco Morning News did publish was a report of Mr. Dollins's remarks to the commission on November 4, when he said he was not satisfied with that paving, as it was "rough and uneven."

And the Morning News's comment on those remarks had to do with the truth that the condition of Columbus street paving is not a matter of opinion, but a matter of actual physical fact—whether the pavement is rough or smooth, uneven or even, may be ascertained by looking at it and driving over it.

Further, what the Morning News said was that Columbus street paving is neither rough nor uneven—and it called on this commissioner to detail his objections to the job.

The Morning News submits its judgment to the people, not to this or any other city official, on the nature of this public improvement and similar improvements.

"Just why the writer is so solicitous for bitulthic paving, I leave it to the people to surmise, and they won't have much trouble reaching a conclusion," said Mr. Dollins yesterday to the commission, concerning the Morning News's editorial of November 6.

The Morning News is "solicitous" for bitulthic paving for the reason, and the only reason, that bitulthic paving has been proved in Waco and every other Texas city that has used it, to be the best permanent paving yet manufactured; the best process, the most durable paving.

The paving of Austin avenue, that has stood the brunt of the traffic and travel of a city of 30-35 thousands of people for four years, tells by present condition its own story and supplies proof sufficient.

The Morning News wants to see the city and its people get the best. That's the whole truth of the matter.

And if Mr. Dollins means by the above quoted remark to imply that the Morning News has any ulterior motive, any interested motive, any motive other than "solicitude" for the people's interests in taking the stand against loose official criticism of public improvements that it took in its editorial on November 6, Mr. Dollins is heartily invited to crack his whip— to send to this newspaper a plain, straightforward statement of his real opinion as to why this newspaper criticized his remarks to the commission on Tuesday last.

Mr. Dollins's defense of his veracity was superfluous.

Mr. Dollins's bill of particulars concerning the attitude of the Waco Morning News toward bitulthic paving, in amplification of the hints he

Woman's Day at the Cotton Palace

This is "Woman's Day" at the Cotton Palace. The women's organizations in Waco and their associations for the purpose of assisting in the making and operation of the city's fourth great, new exposition will parade through the city to the grounds, pass in review by a distinguished company and then participate in the celebration of this day dedicated and named in their honor.

To no other special day save "Waco Day" in these sixteen parts of the Cotton Palace program have we given particular mention, thus far. But there is no other especially designated occasion in the sixteen days of the Palace quite as worthy of public greeting and as worthy of enthusiastic public support as this day set apart to honor the women of Waco.

Given the blessing of sunshine, there is assurance that "Woman's Day" at the Palace will be more generally and heartily celebrated by those for whom it is named than any other day in the season. It will be more strikingly, more attractively observed—in parade, in the vehicles and floats of the organization, in the reception and arrangements along the line of march, in the features of observance at the Cotton Palace.

For it is "Woman's Day." And the Fourth Cotton Palace itself is the splendid criterion of Waco women's ability to present a most creditable, beautiful civic celebration. There has been and there is—and all the city knows there will be—no stronger factor in the success of the Cotton Palace, and no brighter, than the work of women's organizations and of women individually.

tried to give the commission and the public yesterday, will be given prominent place in these columns if it is forthcoming.

Mr. Dollins's opinion of this "supposedly reputable" newspaper and its "supposed editorials" has as high a place in this newspaper's estimation as Mr. Dollins's views on the paving of Columbus street.

What Would You Expect?
All the objections originally urged against an income tax are now coming home with great force. It is vexatious, inequitable, involves a disclosure of many business and private relations and is undemocratic and un-American.—Financial Chronicle.

The explanation, or motive, of that squib—like the sting of the bee—is located in its last part—"Financial Chronicle."

DEMANDED OF WACO'S HOSTSHIP.

We would suggest in all friendliness to the Cotton Palace management and to the city government—and especially to any committee that may be in charge of this particular feature of the exposition celebration—that better arrangements certainly should be made here for the convenience of visiting organizations, and communities that send delegations to their special days at the Palace, if these bring with them "marching clubs," "booster clubs" or any other aggregation that desires to parade through the streets to the grounds.

It is the commendable desire of such companies of visitors to give their home cities and institutions the benefit of the worthwhile publicity that is to be had when a city is crowded with strangers in celebration of a big public event. Waco and Waco's civic and commercial organizations know well the reasons for and the results of such "booster" expeditions and have been accorded every courtesy and convenience in their trade and other excursions to cities throughout Texas.

So "booster clubs," marching clubs, commercial clubs' delegations and companies representing civic associations from other cities that come to the Cotton Palace, if they desire to march through our streets should be accorded every convenience possible and should be given every opportunity to make the best possible showing. Their line of march should not be blocked by street cars, wagons and large teams; their parades should not be broken by automobiles, horse-drawn vehicles and pedestrians crossing the streets through their lines—as was the case yesterday when many scores of our good friends and Cotton Palace enthusiasts from Moody and other neighboring towns celebrated their special day at the exposition.

We suggest that it is a very simple matter—and an arrangement demanded of Waco's hostship and its spirit of hospitality to all the state that should be thoroughly evidenced during this Cotton Palace season—to have a squad of police assigned to take care of all parades of this sort that may be projected for the remainder of the celebration. This feature of the program for visitors should be looked after as carefully as any other—and it means a deal to the visitors and their cities.

Let the Palace management and the city attend to this, now.

And, above all else, this is

"WOMAN'S DAY."

It does not need the bestowal of ribbons, of premiums, of signal honor and recognition by places that are conspicuous before the thousands who go to the Palace, of titles in the economy of Cotton Palace management, to teach the people of Waco how greatly they are indebted to their women for the beauty and dignity and usefulness and educating phases of their unique exposition. The lesson is visible, most happy visible. It is in the decoration of buildings and grounds, the arrangement and decking of booths; woman's hand is in that wondrously lovely display of flowers, women's skill made the unparalleled exhibit of modeling in cotton, women are the mainstay of the exhibits of the results of industrial and letter education in our public institutions, women have counted neither time nor cost nor energy in hurrying about the city to contrive for the success of the pleasant social features of Waco's carnival season.

"Woman's Day" at the Cotton Palace will be comparable with woman's work at the Cotton Palace, we are very sure. And in this day is fine opportunity for the people of Waco to do honor to those who have done so much in the city's honor and for the city's fame; there is fine opportunity for a substantial expression of the community's gratitude by general support of the Palace—by large, paid patronage and a thoroughly generous out-turning and reception for the parade and the review at the grounds.

Let Waco today delight to honor the women who have supplied beauty, dignity, practical usefulness and social entertainment to the Texas Cotton Palace.

TO THE CITY COMMISSION.

Most automobile riding is for pleasure or mere convenience, and most of the accidents are caused by the joy-riders who seem to have a contempt for the rights of all other persons. Since the prohibition of speeding will not deter the commission of an act necessary to impose exceptional penalties for injuries they cause to life and limb. They perfectly realize the consequences of fast driving, and it is reasonable to hold a man accountable for what he knows in advance will not deter the commission of an act.

In view of the speed mania which possesses so many automobilists, it is worth while considering whether the law should not prohibit the operation of a machine capable of a speed beyond a reasonable limit. Twenty-five miles an hour is fast enough for ordinary purposes, and it would be easy for a system of automobile licensing to be based upon proof that the licensed machine, by reason of its construction or gearing, cannot be operated at a greater speed.—Fort Worth Record.

DESTINY OF THE PARCEL POST.

Writing in the Saturday Evening Post, the postmaster general, Mr. Burleson, declares that the parcel post in the United States is bound to become the biggest business agency in the world. Business—the sale and exchange of goods and products—inevitably must seek the cheapest, the most satisfactory and the most widespread means of transportation, he says. The parcel post eventually will carry into the most remote hamlet of this country practically all the household comforts and necessities; and, at the same time, it will carry back to the very centers of trade many of the products of the most inaccessible villages.

"Here," says Mr. Burleson, "we have a tremendous common carrier—one that utilizes both the railroads and the steamboat companies; one that reaches with unfailing regularity the villages down by the sea and the houses on the mountaintop. It goes into the homes of all the people in this country, reveals Alaska as an open book for the salesmanship of New York, and reaches across the Pacific to the Philippine Islands. Its domain is far beyond that of railroads, express companies and steamship lines.

"It is a constant, living thing, everywhere that automobiles may roll or horses may travel or, in extreme instances, where men carrying packs on their backs may tread difficult trails. In other words, the parcel post for the first time in our history offers to commercial men an unlimited buying public and gives to the public an easy market for its products.

"This phase of the parcel post, its satisfactory and regular service over great distances and into remote places, is so important that it should be emphasized. The United States, including Alaska, covers an area of 3,617,000 square miles. England, Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Belgium, France and Germany, all combined, do not cover so many square miles as are included in the four States of Texas, Arizona, New Mexico and Wyoming. Great Britain is smaller than New Mexico; Belgium is only a little larger than Vermont; and neither Germany nor France is hardly larger than the combined area of Colorado and Wyoming.

"These comparisons show the scope of the parcel post in this country. And when I say that in six months of the first year of its trial three hundred million parcels passed through it, and that in the second year the total will approximate one billion, it becomes still more evident that this common carrier has grown already into a collus of commercialism. The parcel post is, indeed, the biggest thing in business.

"It is particularly big, and is growing a great deal bigger, because it serves and will serve American ingenuity—the brains that are better suited to enterprise than those of any other nation known to history. Already it has won its success as a stimulant of business. Therefore its use is twofold—it stimulates and it completes business; but, though a vast number of men and concerns have been benefited by it, it is extremely important that all men should share in its advantages. For the parcel post is like any other undertaking—the greater its popular support the larger and more complete will be its service to every individual."

John Bull Underestimates Us.

British actions in Mexico indicate that John Bull has no proper feeling of gratitude to this country for keeping Mrs. Pankhurst away.—Chicago News.

Far from being a feeling of gratitude, it doubtless is a belittling of the intelligence of the American administration and public for letting the Pankhurst come in, after John's own troubles with her in the r. l. t. l. island. But now that John has seen how we have subdued the Pankhurst, have cut her claws—as 'twere—perhaps his opinion of us will look up a bit and he will order his representatives in Mexico to join hands with ours across the piazas. For we have enjoyed what John Bull long has sought and mourned because he found it not—a fortnight of peace and Pankhurst in the same country.

"SAVING TIME IN EDUCATION."

There is a waste of at least two years in the present plan of American education. This is the conclusion reached by a committee of prominent educators in a report on "Economy of Time in Education," issued by the federal bureau of education.

This conclusion follows an investigation lasting nearly ten years by a committee of the National Education Association, of which President James H. Baker, of the University of Colorado, is chairman. The committee have endeavored to form a plan that would do away with the two-year loss. They propose that six years be assigned to the elementary school instead of eight as at present; that the high school period be from age 12 to 18, divided into two parts of four and two years each; that college work extend from 18 to 20, or 16 to 20, according to the method of distributing the last two secondary years; and that graduate or professional work at a university cover the years from 20 to 24. This would enable boys and girls to get ample vocational training after the age of 12; it would enable those who go to college to get through their college work at the age of 20; and it would save the professional man from having to wait until 27 to start his professional career.

The report insists that the present elementary course is too long; that the ground now covered in eight years can be covered just as efficiently in six, allowing secondary work to begin at the age of 12. To save on elementary schooling they urge: "Choose the most important subject and the most important topics; make a distinction between first-rate facts and principles and tenth-rate. Confine the period of elementary education to mastering the tools of education. Include the last two years of the present elementary school in the period of secondary education and begin the study of foreign language, elementary algebra, constructive geometry, elementary science and history two years earlier than at present."

Emphasis is laid on the necessity of concentrating on a few valuable studies: "The great mistake of our education is to suppose that quantity and strain constitute education. Education is a question of doing a few essential things well and without overstrain. The college has committed a grievous mistake in demanding even more in quantity rather than in quality produced under condition of healthy normal development."

The report takes up the problem of saving time in education from the point of view of the college, the school and society at large, as well as of the individual pupil; and it contains opinions on every phase of the question from representative school men and the general public.

Begin at Home.

Majors of Texas Cities Will Co-operate for Public Benefit.—Headline.

We say—and doubtless have said—that the association of Texas mayors would be less inexplicable as "an organization to co-operate in behalf of public improvements" if more mayors of our cities, individually, showed a disposition to broadness in obtaining such improvements and an heartier desire to co-operate with the public. We are ever for substance and not at all for show.

And still the wonder grows and the pleasure grows as the people of Waco look on the artistry that is in the color scheme of the Cotton Palace at night.

The city now is presented with an opportunity all too rare, these days, in the musical world—a Palace concert twice daily by a band of veritable musicians that is both symphonic and "popular." There is just enough that is classic, just enough that is opera and just enough that we differentiate by the name of "lively," supplied by the Ellery organization, to please the crowd and all sorts therein.

Waco was made pleasantly aware yesterday of the generous and hearty co-operation of this region in the success of the Cotton Palace. It was "Mart Day," "Moody Day" and "Central Texas Day" and the people of these communities and the greatest section of the greatest state generally left, as usual, nothing to be desired in their response on this special occasion.

In every respect this is a most important day at our exposition. The public schools, the boys' and girls' clubs will feature in the exhibits and the celebration, the deaf mutes will enlist the interest of the people in their splendid work. State and community institutions will play a prominent part and the achievements of letter and domestic education will be honored.

Horticultural hall, Boston, and Madison Square garden, New York, have in their long lives displayed no finer banks of chrysanthemums than the Texas Cotton Palace, Waco, has to show as the result of the skill and labor of the Wolfes.

The great, old "advance guard of commerce" at the Cotton Palace today will regret keenly that the Hon. John H. Kirby, of Houston and Texas, is unable to join in their celebration of "Traveling Men's Day."

TO THE CITY COMMISSION.

The Waco Morning News carried a strong editorial on the subject of the indifference and carelessness of motor drivers and the consequent loss of life through inexcusable accidents. The editorial was prompted by a recent incident that served to bring the subject home to every citizen whose regard for human life is not overshadowed by a reckless selfishness born of auto ownership. They are occurring everywhere and the number is sufficient to occasion the greatest alarm. Unless there is a halt soon and more regard is shown for the safety of others, an aroused public will certainly take matters in their own hands and adopt such measures as will serve to protect human life from the reckless driver of motor driven vehicles.—Denison Herald.

Y. M. C. A. NIGHT PLANS

COMMITTEE MEETS AND COMPLETES ARRANGEMENTS FOR CELEBRATION.

Ladies Are Complimented for Their Splendid Work—Unique Ball Costumes—List of Prices.

The Young Men's Business league night, November 11, at the Cotton Palace, and which has also been declared Waco day, will be a banner event. The committee which has charge of the arrangement met at the club rooms last night and completed all arrangements for the event. R. S. Fleming, R. V. McCham, Sam Knight, A. G. Steele, Frank J. Trail, W. V. Crawford, H. Hagedorn Jr., responded to the call of J. J. Hutchinson, the chairman, to complete the arrangements.

Ladies Complimented.
The work of Miss Esther Green, Miss Frances Lucide and Mrs. Jack Ray was first commented on, the committee declaring the ladies were boosters of the best type. One hundred firms and business enterprises agreed to have representation in the big trades ball when the ladies announced that they were through with their work. This number and those that are constantly ringing up the headquarters of the league will make the ball a big event.

The Prices.
Persons who will participate in the ball will make up such costumes as will most appropriately represent the business enterprises the couples represent. The prizes, $15, first prize; $10, second prize, and $5, third prize, will be given to the couple which most aptly described the business entered by them. The prize money will be awarded to the couple which will have charge of awarding the prizes. Many of the firms have already begun work on their costumes.

Some Attractive Costumes.
The postoffice mail carriers will have a most unique costume; the Sheet Metal Workers' association; the Waco, who were not able to represent their costumes on Waco day, will have this expensive array of metal at the ball. Waco Electrical company have been busily engaged in making up a striking costume. And Mr. Hutchinson thought it would be a good idea to start at once on the costumes so as to have them ready in plenty of time.

"Mysterious Y. M. C. A. Girl." The "Mysterious Lady" will be on the grounds just after dark, when the hunt will start for her to get the $25 prize. A member of the committee, who will have charge of this, said that she would likely be riding the carry-round with most any one, or taking a chance on Snooky-cokums, or riding the ferris wheel, or feeding the elephants peanuts. The man or woman who will be lucky enough to locate her with the proper words will be immediately escorted to the coliseum, where the announcement will be made and there the $25 awarded.

She Will Lead the March.
The lady will lead the trades ball with the president of the Young Men's Business league, who will wear a booster costume, such as is worn on the trade trips, and such other attachments to his costume that will most symbolize the Young Men's Business league. Just before the trades ball starts all participants will be announced separately and alphabetically, so that every firm will have equal representation and all are assured by the committee will be handled on an equal basis. Letters are being sent to all members of the Young Men's Business league with an inclosure of a tab to be pinned on the lapel of every member of the league to thoroughly advertise the day and the event.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY EXHIBIT.

Chart Shows the Number of Registrations Made Each Year.

One of the interesting features in connection with the University of Texas exhibit at the Cotton Palace is that which relates to the correspondence instruction. This work was begun only four years ago. The number of courses now offered by correspondence is 214. Of this number, 116 may be counted toward college degrees. Any student is permitted to do not exceeding one-half of the work required for graduation, by correspondence.

What Charts and Maps Show.

Another chart indicates the registrations that have been made each year. During the year 1909-10, there were 208 registrations; in 1912-13 there were 1048 registrations. At the present time more than one thousand are doing work of college grade in their homes. There is also on display a map which indicates the counties of the state that have contributed students to this phase of university activity. The counties that have contributed the largest number of students are Travis, Bexar, Dallas, Tarrant, Harris, Bell, McLennan, Navarro and Johnson. The map also shows graphically the number of students from every other county.

EXPERT TO COACH GOLFERS.

J. M. Taylor Arrives to Begin Instruction on Museo Club Links.

J. H. Taylor, professional, coming from the Lakeside Country club of Canton, Ohio, has arrived to take charge of the instruction work at the golf course of the Museo Country club in this city.

The members of the golf playing contingent of the club have been anxious to bring a professional here for a long stay for some time. A few months ago there was a professional in attendance for a few weeks, but there are no many novices at the game among the members of the club that it is necessary to keep an instructor here permanently, and the committee has brought Mr. Taylor, who will commence at once the work of teaching. Yesterday he made one of a foursome with George V. Retan, Harold Shear and Cress Eaton. None of the four turned in a card after the round, but Professional Taylor said that he was well pleased with the course.

Personal.

Mrs. A. M. Morris of McKinney is in the city, the guest of her mother, Mrs. L. Berkman, 524 North Fifth street. Mrs. J. N. Rosenbergs, 415 Washington street. She will remain in Waco until Mr. Morris returns from eastern markets. Prof. Dow W. Tate of Waukegan and sister, Miss Tommy Tate, of Dallas, are in the city, the guests of their mother, Mrs. Lizzie Tate, and attending the Cotton Palace.

John T. Wood of Dallas is here visiting friends and attending the Cotton Palace.

Yes, Eyetic Lenses are worth more than the other styles of glasses because the chemical process in the making of this glass from which the Eyetic Lenses are ground cost more. Besides, these lenses perform greater work for the wearer. They exclude the ultra violet rays, which are so injurious to the eyes, and at the same time allow the health rays to be transmitted to the retina, giving perfect, clear vision—and also restful vision. Eyetic Lenses are the best lenses made; consequently they cost more. Buy the best—of Dr. W. B. Georgia & Co., Optometrists and Lens Grinders, 324 Austin, at the big spectacle sign.

DOLLINS OBJECTS TO AN EDITORIAL

SAYS HE IS SATISFIED WITH BIT-ULITHIC SINCE IT IS EX-PLAINED.

ROUGHNESS WILL WEAR OFF

Wants People to Surmise Why Morning News Is Solicitous for the Paving.

Speaking to a question of personal privilege, Commissioner John Dollins, before the city commission yesterday morning said that in making the statement that the Columbus street pavement was not smooth and not up to standard, which statement was discussed in an editorial in The Morning News, he merely acted within his province as a city official.

The discussion was precipitated at a meeting a week ago of the commission when Mr. Dollins, turning to Commissioner J. W. Foster of the street department, asked, "Are you satisfied with the pavement on Columbus street?" Mr. Foster answered, "I am," and Mr. Dollins said "I am not, it is uneven and rough." Commissioner Dollins also said the curbing in some parts was not up to standard, and in this he was joined by Mayor James H. Mackey.

The question was raised again yesterday when Mr. Foster said there was no controversy between him and Mr. Dollins. Mr. Dollins then exhibited a copy of The Morning News in which was the editorial commenting upon his dissatisfaction with the pavement and said: "The statement in the editorial is misleading in that it does not state the whole facts. You can take any part of a book or conversation or the Bible itself and prove almost anything by them, if you don't include the entire book or conversation."

On last Tuesday when I ventured to question the bitulithic pavement in Columbus street, I was assailed by The Morning News, which questioned the truth and veracity in the statement I had made. As far as I am concerned I am willing to back my reputation for truth and veracity before the people of Waco as against that paper any time. I hold in my hand a copy of a paper containing a supposed editorial coming from a supposedly reputable paper charging me with recklessly handling the truth. I will read one paragraph stating that together with the editor of the Fort Worth Record the writer of this article made a trip over the street for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of the street and stating that they found it very smooth, also stating that they found bitulithic the best pavement in the world, and that they had made many such trips to ascertain the merits of bitulithic or to that effect. Why a paper is so solicitous as to the welfare of the bitulithic corporation, so much so it will use its editorial column to boost its interests, I am not advised, but will leave it to the people to surmise and I don't think they will have a hard time guessing.

"I want to state there is no difference or feeling between Mr. Foster and myself. I have the highest regard for him as street commissioner and as a private citizen. I respect his recommendation and as far as I can conscientiously do so, will support it, but I can't say that I agree with a man when I conscientiously disagree with him. I believe it is every commissioner's prerogative, that if he finds anything in the other's department that he disagrees with to say so."

In Disparaging President.
"I believe it is a dangerous precedent for each commissioner to be supreme in his own department to such an extent that his decision would be final. It virtually makes it a one man power. I do not believe one commissioner should feel hard at another if he should disagree with him in opinion with reference to his department. I only made the statement as to my belief and opinion of Columbus street as a precautionary matter from which the city of Waco's interests could not suffer nor any citizen's interests suffer, nor was it detrimental to the bitulithic people. I think it has come to a pretty pass when a public servant can't express an opinion about the business entrusted to him, without being assailed through the editorial columns of our papers. It seems very deplorable they will do such in the manner which has been done."

"I hope this will end the matter, as I dislike to engage in a personal controversy. I felt this article assailed my honesty and intelligence and I was called upon to make this statement."

Mr. Dollins said both the mayor and Mr. Foster agreed with him the pavement was rough, but when it was explained that the roughness came from the coat that was put on the pavement and would wear down, both were satisfied, as the bitulithic company had promised to replace any curb that might be not up to standard.

HARRINGTON IS PARETIC VICTIM

UNFORTUNATE SALESMAN MEN-TALLY UNBALANCED, INSAN-ITY BOARD FINDS.

HIS CASE PECULIARLY PATHETIC

Investigating Body's Report Shows
That Collapse of Mental Faculties Began Three Years Ago.

John J. Harrington, arrested a week ago on a charge of swindling and against whom there was a subsequent complaint made, charging unsound mind, was adjudged insane by the county insanity examining board, in their report to County Judge George N. Denton, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

The hearing into Harrington's condition was conducted Thursday and announcement of verdict was withheld until yesterday. According to the return of the board Harrington is suffering with paresis, which the physical examination and testimony assembled, caused the board to state has extended over a period of several years.

His Earlier Misfortune.
The board reports that the insanity is not hereditary, but that he has been confined prior to this in an asylum for the insane. This was three years ago when he was for one month an inmate of the state asylum of Mississippi.

Harrington characterized his judgment as insane as being "railroaded" to the asylum, and in telegrams which the sheriff's department sent to friends of his yesterday he stated, "I have been railroaded to the asylum again."

Wanted to Go to Congress.
Harrington has been a traveling representative for a Houston wholesale paper concern, and only a few months ago made Waco his home. He advertised himself as a candidate for congressman-at-large and in this manner has attracted quite a deal of interest to himself.

Harrington has a wife and eight children who now reside here. He has no property according to the finding of the board, but his wife on the witness stand testified that his parents left him a 2000-acre farm, which he lost in business. The man is 47 years of age, of prepossessing appearance and is unusually shrewd on some matters.

Go to Jury Tuesday

Chicago, Nov. 7.—The case of Attorney Daniel Donohoe and Detective Isaac Steifel, charged with having conspired to defame Clarence S. Funk, will go to the jury next Tuesday, according to the predictions of attorneys after the presentation of evidence closed today. Judge Pam refused for the second time to take the case away from the jury and direct a verdict of not guilty.

Neither Donohoe nor Steifel took the witness stand in his own defense, only character testimony being introduced. Each side will have nine hours for arguments. Counsel for the state will make the opening argument when the court convenes tomorrow.

After John C. Henning, a bell boy, brought suit against Funk, alleging alienation of Mrs. Henning's affections, and the suit collapsed, Henning, his wife and collateral witnesses testified that they had been bribed by Donohoe or Steifel to testify against Funk. The state charged that the alleged plot was the outgrowth of Funk's testimony during the investigation of Senator Lorimer's election, when Funk asserted Edward Hines exclaimed, "It cost $100,000 to put Lorimer over."

No Strike on W. & L. E.

Cleveland, Nov. 7.—The threatened strike of 200 telegraphers employed by the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad will not materialize. G. W. W. Hanger of Washington, assistant commissioner of mediation and conciliation, announced here today that after four days' conferences, representatives of the road and operators have agreed to arbitrate the demands recently submitted by the latter. The demands include a 15 per cent wage increase.

Al. H. Wilson.
Al. H. Wilson, who combines the sympathetic qualities that made Joe Jefferson the popular idol he was, with a voice whose purity and peculiar appeal suggest Fritz Emmet's never-to-be-forgotten lullabies and folk songs, comes to the Auditorium today, Saturday, matinee and night, in "A Rolling Stone," a new comedy with music by Herbert Hall Winslow and staged by Robert Milton, who made most of the important productions for the New theatre, New York's famous endowed playhouse. Ever since Mr. Wilson's first appearance as a star in "The Watch on the Rhine," he has been a popular idol whose appearance is looked for eagerly each season, and who invariably proves that his powers are overestimated. But it is said that this season the genial comedian will be seen to even better advantage than ever before. Mr. Wilson has the role of a happy-go-lucky young German of noble birth who leaves his country for political reasons, joins a troupe of strolling gipsies and comes along just in season to upset the plans of a couple of gentlemanly villains, and with the heart and hand of a persecuted young girl who is a countess before she knows it. FRANCHISE TO PIPE GAS EXTENDED

GAS MAN PERSUADES CITY COMMISSION TO GRANT 60 DAYS' TIME.

SMITH IS READY TO ACCEPT

Financial Stringency Reason Given for Failure to Secure Capital Needed to Build Pipe Line.

An extension of sixty days in the time for George W. Stough to begin active building of a pipe line into Waco to retain his franchise to pipe gas through the city's alleys and streets was granted by the city commission yesterday.

The franchise obtained by Mr. Stough and associates thirty days ago expired by limitation yesterday. To protect his grant, Mr. Stough, who has been in the east in the endeavor to finance his proposition since he obtained the franchise, hurried from Kansas City Thursday to ask for further time on the franchise.

At Three Meetings. He appeared at three separate meetings of the city commission yesterday, two of them held specially to hear his reason why the time should be extended, and he won.

First he came before the regular meeting of the commission and stated that he would ask for further time for beginning operations. The commission decided to set a special time to hear him, and after adjournment took up the matter with him. Later they set 5 o'clock as the hour and at that meeting he obtained the passage of an ordinance extending the time limit for beginning operations sixty days.

Committee Approves. This action was taken, however, until after a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, who had been appointed to work for gas for Waco, had given their sanction. This committee, composed of L. M. G. Marshall, Henry Bell and E. W. Marshall, was present when the agreement was reached. Also the further provision was understood and it will be carried out, that a franchise for a similar grant, asked by T. J. Smith and others of Mexico, will be put into operation of passage and in the event the Stough franchise is not carried out, the Smith franchise will be granted.

Stough Explains. In making his request for further time, Mr. Stough said he had been at work and had been unable to line up his proposition and he had come like a son to a father to ask an extension of time for beginning work. He said his associates were now taking right of way and he was trying to get the money.

From the manner in which this statement was first received it appeared that his grant would not be extended. Mayor James H. Mackey answered him by saying: "We passed an ordinance allowing you thirty days in which to accept the franchise and by acceptance of the franchise you are extending the time without limit. It is up to you to make such showing to demonstrate you are able to carry out the proposition made here forty days ago. If you do that as far as I am concerned I will stay with you, but as to an extension of time without limit, I am giving some indication of what you can do, I am opposed to that."

Gives Reason for Delay. Mr. Stough attributed his failure to obtain the money for the project to the currency legislation, tariff law, and Mexican situation, which, he said, had unsettled matters to some extent, and love and fights a duel with knives, and all with spirit, ease and charm.

"Little Boy Blue." Otis Harlan and his twin brothers—it could not be otherwise. In "Little Boy Blue," Henry W. Savage, to have found a show made for Harlan's temperance and it is an assured fact that a capacity house will greet this well-known musical comedy at the Auditorium, Monday matinee and night, November 10. Manager Brian of the local playhouse wrote to a friend in New Orleans asking that he send him independent newspaper criticisms of "Little Boy Blue" so that the Waco theatergoers could judge for themselves what to expect. "Anybody who misses 'Little Boy Blue,'" said Mr. Brian to a representative of the Waco Morning News, "is deliberately depriving himself of one of the best shows on the road this year. It is so good I want all our patrons to know about it. Here is what the New Orleans Daily States thinks about 'Little Boy Blue':

"'Little Boy Blue' is really a Little Girl Blue, blue because she is only a Parisian barmaid in love with an impecunious marquis who is ordered by his creditors to marry a Scotch heiress. In a three-act musical comedy that is musical and comedy, Henry W. Savage offers a production well in keeping with the standard of his successes. The lines sparkle at times and the music is good throughout. One song at least, 'Love Never Dies,' could be classed as haunting. The audience hummed it going out, an infallible sign.

"Otis Harlan is easily the hit of the play. In addition to being an old favorite here he is still in the ring. Harlan is 40, fat and funny. The program says he is a detective and as such he shatters all dime-novel idols. He stopped growing at four feet, three, and the law of compensation built him out the other way generously. His dancing with Elizabeth Woodall, who is not particularly waspish herself, is marvelous and when he dons a kilt with the 'sporn' turned the wrong way the Tulane theater rocks.

"But the Scotch kilt in 'Little Boy Blue' and incidentally 'Little Boy Blue' in Scotch kilts, have put the production in the success column. A chorus in kilts, real kilts, gave rise to a new problem in the 'natural process of selection' of the chorus, and the 'fittest' survived only after their knees were up to the dimpled standards. The result is a surprise, perhaps a mild shock, but a delicious sort of shock. By way of forecasting the coming of the Scotch lassies, a la mode four pretty misses have been imported into Paris for the first act to sit around the Bal Tabarin in short hose. Their pink and powder dimples are above reproach and the whole company goes over to Scotland and puts on the tartan."

BAVARIAN REGENT WHO MAY SUCCEED KING OTTO.

PRINCE LUDWIG OF BAVARIA

The Bavarian Cabinet met recently and received the consent of Prince Regent Ludwig to the introduction of a measure to make him King of Bavaria in place of the insane King Otto, who succeeded his father, Ludwig, in 1886 and has never known that he was a monarch.

he had been unable to get the backing that was promised him when he obtained the franchise. He said the contract he had made with the city on boiler gas was a little too liberal on his part and the currency bill had made big bankers tie up money and say, "It looks shaky."

Littlefield Has Doubts. Commissioner Littlefield suggested if Mr. Stough desired an executive session it would be held for him to explain his business, but he did not. The commissioner said: "You seem to have nothing in concrete form to offer us, and you want further time. We are willing to give you all reasonable time to complete your plans, but we want some assurance that the line will be constructed. If you don't contemplate building the line, other people want to. If you are sure your plan will be worked out and will give the city some guarantee, I favor giving you more time."

Mr. Stough said the time limit had originally been set too low, and that he could begin shipping pipe within sixty days, that he could go through with his proposition if granted sixty days' additional time to begin work.

In Indulgent Mood. At the afternoon session, when final action was taken, the commission was more ready to grant the extension of time. Mr. Stough had explained the conditions and Mayor Mackey had talked over the long distance telephone with Mr. Smith at Mexico with reference to Mr. Smith's application for franchise. The mayor said he considered the city would be standing in its own light to refuse an extension of time, and take up a franchise that does not promise as much to the city as the Stough grant. The Stough franchise, he said, promises to furnish boiler gas at 8c and the Smith franchise at 12c. L. M. G. Marshall of the Chamber of Commerce committee stated the rate in Dallas was 9c for that character of gas, and it was explained that Dallas did not get boiler gas, as it was not furnished.

Commissioner Littlefield said that to take up the Smith franchise and put it into process of operation and to extend the Stough franchise would mean that the Smith franchise would be the one accepted, as their franchise was the better for the person accepting it.

City Can Lose Nothing. Harry Baine said the city could lose nothing by extending the Stough franchise, and Mr. Stough said he had the word of some of the biggest gas men in the business that they will help him put the pipe line through if the extension is granted.

On this presentation of the question, further time of sixty days was granted Mr. Stough, and at the same time the Smith franchise will be taken up and put into process of passage. Representatives of the Smith interests are expected to be here today for a conference with city officials.

DEPOT CASE IS AGAIN UP

Attorney General Files Application for Writ of Error in Hillsboro Station Ruling.

Austin, Nov. 7.—The celebrated Hillsboro depot case made its appearance in the state supreme court today when an application for a writ of error was filed by the attorney general. It would not be unexpected if railroad attorneys would file a similar application, in order that both sides may be represented. Complaints have been voiced by both the state and the railroad companies.

The ruling of the railroad commission requiring railroads to maintain adequate station facilities and union depots was sustained as constitutional in the appellate court, although the lower court held adversely. The order of the railroad commission wherein the cost of the erection of the depot in controversy at Hillsboro was apportioned between the Katy, Cotton Belt and Trinity and Brazos Valley, was sustained in the first opinion of the court, when the case was reversed and rendered in favor of the state.

HELLO BOSSES MEET

NINE EXCHANGES OF THE INDEPENDENT SYSTEM ARE REPRESENTED.

President J. B. Earle Welcomes the Visiting Managers and Papers Are Read and Discussed.

The first session of a two day's convention of the managers and officials of the Texas Independent Telephone System convened in the Y. M. B. L. rooms Friday morning. Local managers of all the exchanges of the nine different telephone companies comprising the system were present, together with the representatives of a number of connecting companies, covering a territory from Fort Worth and Dallas south to the coast and east to Orange and Port Arthur.

Between fifty and sixty visitors attended the meeting Friday and some twenty more, with their families, are expected Saturday.

Early Welcomes Visitors. The meeting Friday morning was opened by an address of welcome from J. B. Earle, president of the Texas Independent Telephone System, followed by a paper on "Our Plans for 1914" by General Manager P. Kerr Higgins. Theodore Dugger, assistant commercial superintendent, addressed the meeting on various commercial matters. The afternoon session was given over to the work of the plant department, directed by Plant Superintendent J. J. Cline and Engineer G. M. Peyton and to short talks by the representatives of supply houses.

Today's Sessions. This morning the meeting will be in charge of Secretary and Treasurer E. C. Blomeyer and Auditor L. S. Gardner for the discussion of accounting and general matters. In the afternoon the visitors will be the guests of the company at the Cotton Palace, this being "Telephone Day," and will attend Waco's great show with injunctions from the officials of the company to take in everything from the band concert to the last tent on the "war-path."

Hutchinson in the Chair. Traffic Superintendent James Y. Hutchinson is acting as chairman of the meeting which has heretofore been an annual affair but will likely be held twice each year hereafter.

The company finds Waco an ideal location for its meetings of various kinds, as this city is not only the executive headquarters of each of its nine companies, but it is so situated that it can be easily reached from any of the distant exchanges.

COTTON DAY AT PALACE NOV. 15

PROGRAM, JUST COMPLETED, BEGINNING WITH MASS MEETING IN MORNING.

SPEAKERS' LIST IS ANNOUNCED

Judge W. F. Robertson of Dallas, George Dole Wadley of Macon, Ga., and Others Are Coming.

One of the interesting features and one which all classes of visitors at the Cotton Palace was giving serious attention to yesterday was at the booth of the Southern States' Cotton Corporation, where D. J. Neill and W. B. Yeary, vice president for Texas of the corporation, were explaining what had made the highest price cotton during the fall months in thirty years, and giving out the literature.

They Want to Know. Farmers and business men alike were anxious to know of the system that had given the south 14 cents for cotton this fall in the face of a war in Europe, one in Mexico, a democratic administration that had revised the tariff, placing wool on the free list and making a radical change in the monetary system. They remember any of these things has been sufficient excuse in the past to make eight-cent cotton and better prices this fall with all of them at once makes them think seriously.

Yeary Explains. Mr. Yeary stated that the corporation was receiving cotton in the eight main cotton states of the south and in sufficient volume to assure 15 cents basis middling for all cotton received and the more it receives the sooner the price will be reached. The plan is briefly stated as follows: Arrangements have been made in the south and in Europe to warehouse and advance three-fourths of the market value of cotton. This three-fourths is paid the farmer by the local bank the day of delivery. An invoice is sent to the head office of the state he lives in and scrip (the association's note) bearing 6 per cent interest is sent him for the difference between the cash received and 15 cents basis middling. The scrip is paid when the cotton can be sold for 15 cents net.

Financing His Own. Each farmer is financing his own cotton by accepting one-fourth in scrip which is the bank's margin for making the loan. Mr. Yeary shows it to be the same system of financing that every commercial product on earth has adopted. Simply placing it in warehouses and holding it until some one wants it at a profit in place of selling it at auction. W. T. Anderson, manager of the Macon (Ga.) Telegraph, Judge Wm. F. Robertson of Dallas, Geo. Dole Wadley of Georgia, president of the corporation, will speak at the Cotton Palace on the 15th in explanation of the plan, its progress, needs for it, etc. The plan fully in operation certainly means a new south.

Nov. 15, the Date. W. B. Yeary expects a big attendance on Cotton Day at the Palace. The date is November 15. On the morning of that date a mass meeting will be held at 10 o'clock at the convention tent, under the direction of the Cotton Growers' association and Farmers' Union of America. Among the speakers who will be here for the occasion are W. T. Anderson, manager of the Macon (Ga.) Telegraph; Judge Wm. F. Robertson of Dallas; and George Dole Wadley of Macon, Ga., president of the association.

ACCEPT STORM SEWER

LARGEST MAIN IN THE CITY HAS REACHED COMPLETION.

City Engineer Reports Cameron Park Sewer One-third Completed, Change Roadway.

Mary street storm sewer, the largest sewer main in the city, has been completed. Final estimate for the construction of the main was allowed to N. B. Gregory, contractor in charge, by the city commission yesterday morning. The estimate was for $4,504.23.

This completes all money due the contractor with the exception of 10 per cent, which is withheld until the main is accepted. Acceptance will probably be made next week.

To Drain Storm Water.
The sewer was constructed to carry storm water from the down-town district, and laterals from the various sections of town will be run into the main. Bids for the construction of these laterals were submitted to the commission yesterday. Two companies bid. They were Ockard Bros. and the Municipal Construction company. The bids were referred to the street department for tabulation and a recommendation. As proposed, the laterals will extend from Austin street to the sewer, with one lateral extending as far north as Washington street.

Littlefield in Opposition.
Commissioner Littlefield opposed this plan, stating that in his judgment the laterals should be extended only as far as Franklin street, and the water permitted to pass on top of the ground from Franklin to Mary sewer. He said underground laterals caused a stench. Commissioner Gregory, however, favored the underground lateral. The contract will probably be awarded at the next meeting.

Report was made by the city engineer that the contractor had completed a third of the Cameron Park sewer. Laterals will also be run from this sewer to accommodate all residents in that section.

To Change Roadway.
The commission agreed to change the roadway in Farwell Heights, where the present street passes over private property, the city to bear half the expense of such change and the property owners affected to bear the other half.

Ordinance regulating what character of merchandise can be sold by peddlers over the city was finally passed. The measure prevents the peddling of manufactured goods and tends to confine the articles to be sold to vegetables and perishable goods.

Ordinances were ordered requiring cement walks on Franklin street, First to Third street, and on Preston street, Elm to St. Charles.

Petition of Waco Cycle company to place a tank in the walk at 616 Elm street referred to Commissioner Littlefield.

The commission will hear protests from property owners as to the benefit derived from paving Columbus street, Sixth to Twenty-third, on November 18, and the city secretary was instructed to so notify those interested.

Following permits to repair buildings were granted: Joe Pinto, 411 1/2 Franklin; J. T. Powers, 364 Austin; George Crawford, First and Bridge streets; P. W. Huber, 115 South Fifth; T. J. Frim, 124 Austin.

The following bills were allowed: To Texas Power and Light company, $2,693.50 for arc lights during October; to R. Crawford, $550 for final estimate on repairs at city hall, changing city court room and constructing iron stairway.

A refund of $2.50 was made to a lecturer who had hired the city hall at a cost of $5, because poor lighting service interfered with the lecture.

WALKING IN CHARITY

Lesson for November 9, 1913.

Lesson Text: Romans 14:7-21.

Golden text: "It is good not to eat flesh nor to drink wine nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth." Romans 14:21.

Daily Bible Readings—Monday, 1 Cor. 6:19; Tuesday, 2 Cor. 6:15; Wednesday, 1 Cor. 8:9; Thursday, Romans 12:17; Friday, Psalms 34:6; Saturday, Acts 10:15.

Lesson Analysis.
Object (Fact)—The Fleaish Life.
Subject (Thought)—Walking in Charity.

Introduction.—The Epistle to the Romans was written by Paul in 58 A. D., from Corinth, when on his third mission tour. The membership of this church was made up of a heterogeneous multitude from all parts of the world and like other churches was divided into two factions—Jew and Gentile. While they held together during the apostolic age the alienation of the Gentiles was often great and the strife bitter. In this lesson the contention is over meat eating and betrays the sordid passions of the flesh that prompted the strife. The Gentiles bought and ate the meat sacrificed to idols. After being used in the religious rites it was offered for sale at the city meat stalls as common meat and was used by the Gentile converts without objection. The act offended the Jewish brethren as being an endorsement of idolatry and by it a breach was made between the two contingents. Paul urged charity as a remedy for the strife.

Object—The Fleaish Life.
The following facts are known concerning it:
1. It disregards the brother. The Jewish convert was a real brother in Christ with the Gentile disciple, but he staggered in conscientious scruple over eating the idol meat. He could not be reconciled to the apparent sacrifice perpetrated by the Gentile brother in doing so. He made his scruple the test of the other man's duty and broke fellowship with him. In turn his harshness drove the brother to insolent disregard for his convictions. In the strife the flesh and not the spirit prompted the actions of both. Verse 19.

2. It is Given to Selfishness.—The flesh and self are one or very close work companions. It thinks for self, works for self, cares for self, gratifies self, and makes self its beginning and end. The flesh knows nothing of the spirit, its impulses, passions, behests, struggles, visions or rewards. The latter is thrilled with the eternal and the sublime. The former grovels in the seclusion of the temporal and the low, and is lost in the realm of time and sense. Thrust into the sphere of the flesh by strife, self gained the ascendancy and turned all things green through its poisoned eye. Verse 7.

3. It is Without Consideration for the Brother.—To the flesh the brother is but a stranger. The flame of love is gone. The enkindlings of brotherhood are in the ashes. Fellowship is dead. No desire for communion of spirits is felt. It dissolves the community of love, and enthrones the world in base promptings over all the gifts and attitudes of the nature. The brother with his convictions and complaints is accented and despised. Verse 15.

4. It Ignores God.—The flesh is the seat of sin and essentially devilish. It lives in the present and is consumed in the fires of its own devouring passion. It has no ear for God, nor regard for eternal issues, with it God in his will and ways is but a myth. It concedes to him no obligation and asks of him no recompense, except to be let alone. The brother in strife loses the vision of the higher life and is lost in the darkness of fleshly seclusion. He has ceased to abide in the Spirit and has lost sight of his God, and with it the desire to know him. Verse 18.

5. It is Given to the Appetite.—The gratification of the appetite is the first thought or prime consideration. Meat, drink and raiment are its treasures of vast moment. For these life's great struggles are waged and its battles fought. To be hindered in their attainment or molested in their enjoyment is to incur enmity and break spiritual unity. The cravings of the flesh create spiritual anarchy and the breaches wrought in cold cruelty must be constantly healed or its ravages end in disrupted hate. Such was the status of the Jew and Gentile disciples. Verse 21.

6. Its Worship is Technical.—When the spirit goes out the form only is left. When the real praises of God cease in the union and passion of devout hearts then the flesh praises the day and in vainly worships the empty form. Confusion, over an absorbing technical theme with the flesh prompted striving brethren. Contention over genealogies, feasts and days may be rife when the spirit is utterly gone. Technical spiritual degeneracy was thus betrayed in the strife over days in their worship. Verse 6.

7. It Supplies Stumbling Blocks.—Playing the role of religion, the flesh, with all its passions and works, is but a stumbling block and in the pathway of the spiritual mind it hinders, confuses and may defeat the noblest enterprise. It chills the ardor of consecrated purpose and often blasts the brightest hope. The greatest hindrances of the kingdom are its own dead weights. The saint backslidden into the flesh is the devil's best help and the Lord's most trying proposition. These are the monstrous stumbling blocks of the saints. Verse 13.

8. It is Given to Criticism.—The flesh in degenerate spirituality turns back and huris adverse and defiant criticism upon the kingdom and all its representatives, and especially upon its bright lights. The carping critic and chronic faultfinder is the saint that lives prompted by the fleshly passion. Nothing satisfies him. The saints are all hypocrites and the noblest effort is prompted by ignoble and base motive. He wields a sharp lance and his delight is to spill the richest blood and break the strongest battle lines of the kingdom. Harsh domination is a sure sign of fleshly domination and is a most fruitful source of alienation and strife. Such was now rife in the church at Rome. Verse 13.

Proposition.—Brethren Should Walk in Charity with Each Other and Not in Fleaish Strife.
The following reasons are given for it:

Arguments (By Deduction).
1. For by it the Brother is Edified.—To edify is to build the faith and develop the spiritual manhood of the brother. Each saint is the brother's keeper, and the first duty is to do him good and not harm, to help and not hinder, to bless and not curse him, to supply a stepping stone and not a stumbling block, to hood his faith with light and not confuse it in darkness, to comfort and not harass, to be a source of pleasure and profit and not loss and ruin. Charity or love does all this. In it we become a real benediction to the life of the brother. Verse 19.

2. For by it We Follow Peace.—Peace is the badge of Christ, and the bright seal of the true saint. Love inspires its very passion and leads the life into its hallowed paths. The peacemakers are labeled by heaven as the children of God. Satan is mad and the earth is in universal war, but heaven throws the glorious peace over the billowy turmoil. Love thrills it with the gladness yearnings of peace, and when seen in the brother, it becomes heaven's radiant representative and witness. To grow in grace is to follow peace with all men and specially to foster love for the brother. V. 19.

3. For by it We Build the Kingdom.—The kingdom grows in the life expansion. It builds by accretion, its processes are vital and peaceful, not violent or radical. Love is its ploughshare, faith its seed sower, and peace the reaper of its ripened and rich harvests. As the brother abides in the brother's love and becomes an agent of gladness and strength he creates a basis of real growth, and in it and of it and around it the kingdom takes on life and growth. One saint may supply the seed of wondrous planting for the marvelous growth of the kingdom. The kingdom needs those who strive for peace. V. 17.

4. For Jesus Died for the Brother.—The atoning blood of Jesus was shed for the victors or rewards. The sense Jesus tasted death for every man specifically and personally. Jesus died for each believer a really as if He had died for but the one. Our brother is born of God in the cleansing of Christ's blood. Jesus gave His life for him, and our fellowship with him is in the spirit of the same sacrifice. How can we despise the brother whom Jesus loved even unto death? If his salvation called for the greatest sacrifice with his savior, his wellbeing calls for our love. V. 9.

5. For We Live for Christ.—No man liveth unto himself. We are bought with a price and are not our own. What we are and have are Christ's. He owns us in His own indisputable right by virtue of sacred purchase, and has the inalienable right to control and use every gift, resource and influence of life. To this end He live that in us in all things His will may be served and His name glorified. "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least one of these, my brethren, ye did it unto me." We love the brother for Christ and in His stead. This is the bond of real fellowship. V. 8.

6. For We Die for Christ.—Christ died for us and in His death we are redeemed. The life of the disciple is the life of sacrifice. The body of mortal life is a living sacrifice offered on the consecrated altar. In it life is consumed as a whole burnt offering for Christ and at the last death is the final expression of the wondrous offering. We die unto Christ. In it all, life is given unto death in the sacred service of the brother. As we serve the brother, we die for Christ. Jesus thus served and suffered and died for the brother and for us and demands in us the imitation of His example. V. 8.

7. For We Must Render Account for Our Treatment to the Brother.—Jesus will judge the world at the last and His followers will not escape the penalties and rewards of His kingdom. A cup of cold water will not be given in vain. Every thought, word and deed will come into judgment at the last. The pivot of favor will turn upon love. As we love, keep and build the brother, so Jesus will own and crown us at the last as the true witness of His glory in the earth. V. 10.

8. Application.—Our first duty is to love them. 2. As we love and build them we build ourselves. 4. To mistreat the brother is to hate Christ.

Questions.
What is the fact of this lesson? What is the thought? What the theme? What do we know about the flesh? (See Analysis I-VIII.) Who does it disregard? To what baseness is it given, and for whom has it no consideration? Whom does it ignore? To what person is it given? What does it supply to the brother? To what is it given? Why should brethren walk in charity with the brother? (See Argument I-VIII.) Whom does it edify? What does it follow? What does it build? Who died for the brother? For whom do we live? To whom must we account? What practical truths do we draw from this lesson?

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR LESSON, NOVEMBER 9TH.

The Christian's Home Life.—II Timothy 1:1-5.

Daily readings:
Home transformed.—Mark 5:15-20.
Home-lovers.—Prov. 23:17; Tit. 2:5.
Worthy mother.—Prov. 31:10-21.
Christ in the home.—Mat. 8:14-17.
A Christian home.—Philomen.
Hospitality.—1 Tim. 3:15-24-40.

Hints for This Meeting.
Plan especially to get others to take part. Give out questions for those to answer that usually read verses. Give out quotations to be read, with comments. Distribute anecdotes to be related. Ask some to start certain hymns without announcement, and others to lead in prayer on a signal, and others to speak on certain phases of the subject. You might divide up the daily readings among six of those verse readers, and ask each to read his passage and follow the reading with notes of his own.

Question Spurs.
1. Where is the family altar to be found?
2. What virtue is most needed in our home?
3. How may we show our religion in the home?
4. How can we bring Christ into our home?
5. What are some of the common faults of home life?
6. How can our Christian Endeavor work affect the home?
Inspiring Points From Eloquent Pens.
1. "Thou shalt hear there is no home."—Byron.

2. Educating the home we evangelize the world.—J. G.

3. A cottage, if God be there, will hold as much happiness as might stock a palace.—J. Hamilton.

4. Stay, stay at home, my heart, and rest; Home-keeping hearts are happiest.—Longfellow.

5. How rich this earth seems when we regard it crowded with the loves of home!—George MacDonald.

6. "In honor preferring one another." This is true courtesy. It is the essence of Christ's teaching set to music in daily life.—Stopford A. Brooke.

Junior Christian Endeavor.
Miss Mabel Buchanan, superintendent of the Junior department of the Texas C. E. Union, in writing in the Endeavor Quarterly, says: "Do you know that in the city of Chicago there are more Junior societies than in the whole big state of Texas? Chicago has ninety-seven societies, whereas we have only eighty-eight." And as Texas has nearly two million more people than Chicago, it would seem that there is room for many more Junior Endeavor societies in our state. Recent reports show some progress in this line of Endeavor work, one district having reported an equal number of junior and senior societies.

Pastoral Council.
Each denomination in Texas in which Christian Endeavor is admitted as the young people's society has a representative among the pastoral counselors. Rev. R. Tomsen, Amarillo, represents the Presbyterian; U. S. A.; Dr. W. M. Anderson, Dallas, Presbyterian U. S.; Rev. E. H. Kessler, Marshall, Cumberland Presbyterian; Rev. L. M. Harvey, League City, Friends; Dr. Frank Dyer, San Antonio, Congregational; Rev. E. M. Waite, Fort Worth, Christian; Rev. J. C. Williams, Tehuacana, Methodist Protestant; and Rev. E. S. Jameson, Henderson, Free Baptists.

Figures From Dr. Clark's Address.
At least ten million former members are now active and useful in church work to a degree far in excess of what would have been their activity without Christian Endeavor training. There have been at least four million associations of members brought to Christ and into church membership, in part through the influence of the society. At least twenty millions of dollars have been given to local church, missionary, and charitable objects by Endeavorers. More than fifty millions of young people's meetings have been held, with an aggregate attendance of at least one billion five hundred million. At least one hundred thousand union meetings and conventions, representing all evangelical denominations, have also been held, with an aggregate attendance of fifty million, giving a tremendous impetus towards inter-denominational fellowship. These figures, enormous as they are, astounding as they may seem to some, have the power and eloquence of an understatement.

ROLAND R. MOLINEAUX MARRIED

Man Who Stood Trial Twice for Murder of Katherine Adams Weds at New York.

New York, Nov. 7.—Roland R. Molineaux, twice tried twelve years ago for the murder of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams and acquitted, this afternoon applied for a marriage license to wed Miss Margaret Connell of New York. The license was not granted because he had forgotten to bring with him a copy of the decree of divorce, which his former wife, Blanche Chesborough, obtained against him in the South Dakota courts.

Molineaux and his fiancée gave the same address in their application for the license. Miss Connell said she was 28 years old and a secretary. Molineaux is 44.

When he was told that a copy of the divorce decree would have to be filed with the application, Molineaux pleaded with the clerk to waive this procedure, saying that his mother was very ill and that he and Miss Connell wanted to be married at her bedside as quickly as possible. He was told that if he could not get a copy of the decree quickly, he might return to the license bureau and that his affidavit that he was divorced probably would be accepted.

Later in the day Molineaux and Miss Connell returned to the city hall with a copy of his decree of divorce. The license was obtained and an alderman was called and they were married on the spot. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Molineaux hurried to the home of Molineaux's mother in Brooklyn.

HUSBAND NAILED RUBBER ON GATES

Wife so Weak and Nervous Could Not Stand Least Noise—How Cured.

Munford, Ala.—"I was so weak and nervous while passing through the Change of Life that I could hardly live. My husband had to nail rubber on all the gates for I could not stand it to have a gate slam."

"I also had backache and a fullness in my stomach. I noticed that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was advertised for such cases and I sent and got a bottle. It did me so much good that I kept on taking it and found it to be all you claim. I recommend your Compound to all women afflicted as I was."—Mrs. F. P. MULLENDORF, Munford, Alabama.

KANSAS CITY GIRL TO WED WELL KNOWN AERONAUT.

MISS JULIA THOMPSON

Those who have followed recent events in aeronautics were interested in learning that Miss Julia Thompson, of Kansas City, Mo., is to be married to Mr. Ernest G. Schmolck, who has made many notable balloon flights and who figured in the fifth annual distance race for the Coupe Internationale des Aeronauts from St. Louis, Mo., in the autumn of 1910.

Miss Thompson, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Henry Thompson, of Kansas City, met Mr. Schmolck a year ago at a party at Delmonico's, in New York city. They renewed their acquaintance this autumn at Hot Springs, Va., and the engagement is the result.

Tener Is Mentioned For Presidency of the National League

Harrisburg, Nov. 7.—Governor Tener, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for president of the National Baseball league, today would not say whether he would accept the leadership of that organization.

"No offer of the presidency has been made and I have nothing further to say," the governor replied to a question. Yesterday the Governor told friends he was in no sense a candidate.

Gaffney Favors Tener.
Boston, Nov. 7.—President James F. Gaffney of the Boston National league today declared himself in favor of the re-election of Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania to succeed Thomas J. Leahey, Gov. Tener's election should be for a long term of years and at a generous salary. President Gaffney said, Governor Tener, he added, "is by far the best man that the national league could possibly get for president."

Lynch Makes Statement.
New York, Nov. 7.—When President Thomas J. Lynch was questioned regarding the report that Governor Tener of Pennsylvania would be a candidate for the presidency of the National league, he said:

"I know nothing about the campaign being made against me, except what I read in the newspapers. If it is true that Governor Tener is a candidate for the office of president of the National league, then I shall consider it an honor to run against him. My administration cannot have been so bad when they pick one of the foremost men in the country to oppose me."

Find Grandfather Lobster.
Boston, Nov. 7.—"Grandfather of all living lobsters" was the title accorded a giant crustacean brought into port today. The lobster was the largest landed here in fifty years, old-time lobster men said. When they had finished their observations the following figures were given out:

Weight 27 pounds, age about 50 years, spread from claw to claw 37 inches, length of claw 24 inches, feelers 20 inches, width of back 10 inches. Would make salad for twenty-five persons.

CURED TERRIBLE HUMOR ON FACE

Could Not Go On Street Without Veil. Tells What Resinol Did For Her.

Philadelphia, Dec. 6, 1912.—"In December, 1908, my face became sore. I tried everything that was recommended, and my face got worse instead of better. I spent over $100 and got no benefit. The face and nose were very red and the eruption had the appearance of small boils, which itched me terribly. I cannot tell you how terrible my face looked—all I can say is, it was dreadful, and I suffered beyond description.

"I have not gone on the street any time since 1908 without a veil, until now. Just four months ago a friend persuaded me to give Resinol a trial. I have used three cakes of Resinol Soap and less than a jar of Resinol ointment, and my face is perfectly free from any eruption, and my skin is as clear and clean as any child's."

(Signed) Mrs. M. J. Bateman, 4256 Viola Street.

Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, but if you have any skin trouble it will cost you nothing to try them. Send to Dept. 14-M, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for a free sample of each.

FOR SAFETY OF BAGGAGE.

Railroad Men Ask for Passage of a Suitable Ordinance.

Railroad men want an ordinance under which baggage men will be compelled to give customers checks for all baggage hauled by them and placed on depot platforms.

Representatives of various roads appeared before the commission yesterday to make the request. They brought with them copies of ordinances in effect in other cities covering the matter. The commission referred the question to the city attorney with instruction to bring in an ordinance to cover this question.

The aim is to prevent loss of baggage at depot platforms. The statement was made that the largest baggage companies give claim checks to the patron when the baggage is taken for transfer to the station, and these checks are presented at the station and the baggage claimed by its rightful owner. The little baggage concern as individual wagon drivers do not do this, they steal, and confusion and mixing of baggage results.

Garland Is Now City.

Dallas, Nov. 7.—Garland, Dallas county, Texas, a bustling town located in the northeastern portion of Dallas county, almost a suburb of Dallas, is now a city. It was so declared yesterday afternoon by County Judge Quentin D. Corley when his honor completed the tabulation of a vote cast in an election several days ago at Garland. This election was to determine whether or not Garland shall be incorporated under the statute governing towns of over one thousand inhabitants. The vote was 168 for and two against.

DOWN AND $1 PER WEEK
Without interest buys a lot in Roselawn Addition, 100x165 feet, next to next years. I base this opinion on the following: Waco is the center of the state and is surrounded by the cream of the black population. The interurban has been completed from Waco to Dallas, the first line of a system that eventually will connect its lines over all roads leading out of Waco. Waco has an inexhaustible supply of good water, a splendid public school system and a university. Property in Waco has doubled in value in the last ten years. No one will make a mistake in investing his money in business property in Waco or in lands near the city. Having had many years of successful experience I enjoy a wide acquaintance among persons who rely on my judgment and integrity as a substantial real estate man. Here is an opportunity for any one wishing to buy or sell at the right price. Get on our live wires. They are always working.

THE GREAT PATHFINDER.
Mungo Park First to Plunge Fearlessly Into Heart of "Dark Africa."
(Rev. T. M. Gregory, of New York American.)

Mungo Park started out on his African expedition—the first serious attempt that was made to explore the "dark continent"—115 years ago, October 24, 1795. The lion-hearted Scotchman, with two negro servants, set out from Gambia, on the west coast, and plunged fearlessly into the task which, before him, no white man had ever attempted.

It took a real man to plunge into the unknown interior, filled with tales of the monstrous and the terrible. Huge serpents, roaring lions, great black cannibals, scorching heat, deadly fevers—who would dare to challenge these things. And so Africa remained "dark" until yesterday, as it were, while Moses was battling with his problem in the Arabian wilderness; while civilization was maturing in Egypt and Greece; while Roman republics and empires were rising and falling; while the modern nations were coming into being; while Crusaders were fighting, and troubadors were singing, while Columbus was discovering the new world, and Washington was founding the United States of America.

But at last the man and the hour met, and the son of the Selkirkshire farmer took his brave leap into the mystery. In the mystery he remained a year and a half, when he reappeared, returned to England and wrote "Travels in the Interior of Africa," a book which is still one of the most interesting in the libraries of the world.

In the year 1895 Mungo Park started on his second trip to the dark continent—a trip from which he was never to return. Resolved, with true Scotch grit, to "discover the mouth of the Niger or perish in an attempt," Park pushed on through the pathless forests until he reached a point between 9 and 10 north latitude, where, in attempting to make his escape from the natives who were about to kill him, he was drowned in the mighty stream, which should be accepted as his most fitting monument.

Eggs That Creak.
London, (Cor. New York Sun.)
That young unatched crocodiles utter audible creaking cry within the eggs in which they are laid is averred by Knowledge, and it adds the cry is so loud and distinct that it can be heard when the eggs are buried under one or two yards of sand.

Dr. W. A. Lamborn has recently tested the fact at Lagos, on the West African coast. He heard a creaking noise from below a dry path, and, digging in the path to investigate the cause, he discovered 13 crocodiles' eggs at a depth of about 18 inches. All the young crocodiles hatched out within half an hour of being dug up.

So far back as 1592 Dr. Vaelzwock noticed that unatched Madagascar crocodiles uttered a cry from the egg at a depth of two yards and that any shock, as of a heavy tread near the egg caused the baby crocodile to produce this sound "with the mouth closed, as we produce hiccough sounds." In this way they inform the female crocodile, when she visits the nest, that they want her aid, whereupon she scrapes the sand away and they emerge.

Too Late.
She looked at him sadly after she had promised to be his wife.

"Why do you gaze at me like that?" he asked. "You look as if you were unhappy."

"My sorry this couldn't have happened before," she replied. "Now everybody will think I took advantage of my leap year privilege."

"Movies"—"We'll Show What Women Can Do," Says Mrs. Bass.

"The Woman's day parade will be for women only," said Mrs. J. W. Bass, general chairman of the women's departments of the Cotton Palace, last evening. "We have tried to keep this point before the people, and especially the participants therein.

"We want to show just what women alone can do. The parade will be marshalled by women, with the exception of Marshal Fleming and the platoon of police, who are assigned to all parades. Otherwise, except for the little boys' bicycle division, the pageantry is of women exclusively. No one will be allowed in the parade with an auto, float or other vehicle of an advertising or commercial nature. No firm will be allowed to put a float with the name thereon. However, all women's clubs, etc., will, of course, have their banners with their respective names thereon."

"The 'Grandest Parade'"
"With fair weather Waco can look forward to the grandest parade in her entire history," said Mrs. F. J. Lennox, chairman of the Woman's day parade feature. "We are going to have several hustling little cities representing in the pageantry, including Valley Mill, West and McGregor."

The Picture Men Here.
"Arrangements have been perfected whereby Pathe's Weekly moving picture man will be on the Cotton Palace grounds to make a 1,000-foot film or more of the parade as it passes before the grand review in front of Governor and Mrs. Colquitt and various honored guests. This will be something beyond compare and we are looking forward to the culmination of our plans with great delight."

Story Hour at Cotton Palace.
Miss Lota Phare will tell "The Story of the Happy Prince," by Wilde, at the Cotton Palace this afternoon at 4 o'clock.
The story will be told in the convention tent near the exhibition hall,
the old floral hall.

PROBLEM IS SOLVED

CITY COMMISSIONERS AGREE ON THE DEEP SEWER PROP-OSITION.

Property Owners to Bear Their Pro-
Rata Share of Loss in Event
Sewer Is Abandoned.

A deep sewer to care for sewage
from all first basements of buildings in the downtown district and to empty
into the Brazos river will be constructed by the city, and property owners who connect with the main will bear their pro rata share of all loss that might be entailed in the event the sewer is abandoned. The city sewer system is revised to meet requirements of a disposal plant.
This matter was definitely decided yesterday morning by the city commissioners, acting upon recommendation of Commissioner J. W. Foster of the street department. The main will run in the alley between Austin and Franklin streets, from Eighth street
to the river.

Problem Is Solved.
This decision presents a solution of a problem which the commission as well as business organizations of the city have spent more than two months trying to solve. It also provides adequate sewage facilities for at least four large buildings now in construction, and for those in the downtown district settled in the future. The Riggins hotel building at Eighth and Austin, the Hill building at Eighth and Franklin, the Fractorian building at Sixth and Franklin and the Welbush building at Sixth and Austin streets are nearing completion and will be the first served. Owners of the buildings have been before the commission often with reference to the matter.

Report by Engineer Byars.
As a result Commissioner Foster and City Engineer George Byars made visits to four cities, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston with a view to determining how similar matters were handled in those places. Mr.
Byars reported in writing what they had learned of methods in other cities.
This included a statement of how the basements of buildings were handled with reference to sewage disposal and a general outline of the sewer plans of those cities.

Following his report Commissioner Foster recommended that a sewer of sufficient depth be constructed by the city to care for all basements, and that the property owners who connected with this main bear their part of any loss that might occur in the event the main is abandoned. He prefaced his recommendation with the statement that he was in favor of building deep sewers to accommodate basements where-ever it was possible to do so, without entailing a loss to the city.

No Money Available.
He said there was no money available now to construct the main, and that in the event it was constructed at sufficient depth the engineer believed it would have to be at least partially abandoned when the disposal plant was installed. He said he hoped to avoid pumping from buildings but believed the people who connect with the sewer should bear a part of any loss. In Houston, he said, the pumping from buildings was unsatisfactory, and he hoped to avoid this in Waco if possible to arrange for gravitation, that all other cities are preparing to give first basement sewers if there was any way to do it. He said let these who were to connect arrange to guarantee the city one-half of loss, and if there be no loss no one would be out any money.

Riggins Agrees.
J. W. Riggins, representing the Riggins hotel building, agreed to this proposal, saying he was willing to enter into such an obligation and pay his pro rata share when it is determined by the city that a loss has been sustained. He said the matter was too instinctive his plumbing facilities at his serious to permit it to go uncorrected.
George Welbush said he had already building, Sixth and Austin, and did not feel like obligating himself to pay any loss.

Should Not Be Delayed.
In the course of his remarks Mr.
Riggins said he had obtained a plat of the Dallas sewer system and had found by a personal visit to that city
that pumping of sewage was unsatisfactory unless as much as 50 per cent of water was in the matter pumped. He said he had found no building in Dallas on a parallel with his building in the matter of sewage.
That Dallas had two or three ways to run its sewage while in Waco there was only one way. He said he had no disposition to ask the city to do anything unusual, but from the best information he could obtain from Dallas and Fort Worth authorities the distinction of sewage was not to be delayed.
He said the future of any town must be built on lines to encourage investment. He considers the present main that carries for the business district almost overloaded and it would be necessary without a deep sewer to pump everything that comes out of the hotel building. He characterized the proposal to pump sewage from basements to main as dangerous and insanitary, said there was a probability of bursting an eight inch main by such method.

Pay for Itself in Two Years.
He believed that the increase in taxes on the buildings that would be served by a deep sewer would be sufficient in two years to pay the entire cost of the sewer, but said he would be willing to bear his portion of any loss.
Following Mr. Riggins' statement Commissioner Littlefield said in his opinion the question of sewer should be taken under advisement as the matter was too important to be hastily passed upon. Both Commissioners Foster and Littlefield said something must be done at once, the former saying, "We are going to blind to meet an emergency, but it seems the best we can do."

Construction Is Assured.
Mr. Littlefield said he would not vote against it, and Mr. Foster's recommendation passed, carrying with it the certainty that the sewer would be constructed.
Following this action Mr. Riggins thanked the commission, stating it was a matter of much importance to him
as well as to the citizenship as a whole,
as such procedure would assure sanitary conditions.
In attendance at the meeting in the interest of the matter were J. J. Powers, president of the Chamber of Commerce; J. W. Riggins, E. E. Cammack, and George Welbush.

POOL HALL ELECTION

TO BE HELD IN PRECINCT 6, MCLENNAN COUNTY, TO.
DAY.

Majority Vote Will Banish the Cue and Balls—600 Ballots May Be Cast.

An election to determine whether the pool hall will be abolished in justice precinct No. 6, this county, will be held today. It is the first of its kind in McLennan county under the recently enacted law, which permits a majority of voters to state by their ballots
whether they desire the pool hall dispensed with in their particular precinct or county.

The precinct includes the voting
boxes of Moody, Eddy and Bruceville.
The election was ordered by the board of county commissioners at their last session, on petition of voters of that precinct.

Get Returns Monday.
Returns from the election are expected to be received by the commission at its meeting Monday or Tuesday. These will be canvassed and the result certified to.

County Clerk J. W. Baker, in conformity with the law, yesterday sent to the various voting boxes in the precinct the necessary election supplies. The ballots read: For prohibition of pool halls. Against prohibition of pool halls. It is expected that at least 600 votes will be cast in the election.

Being the first election in this county aimed at the abolition of the pool hall, the result will be watched with interest.
